PFIZER VACCINE ALL SET TO GET U.S. EMERGENCY USE APPROVAL

An expert panel of the US Food and Drug Administration has said the shot's potential benefits seem to outweigh its risks

FORMAL NOD BY F.D.A. EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

"There is a clear benefit, and all we have on the other side is theoretical risks," said committee member Paul Offit. The drug now needs to be formally approved by the FDA. While the drug regulator is not necessarily mandated to accept the recommendations of the panel, it is expected to do so next week as the administration gears to ship millions of doses

Agitators to block Delhi-Jaipur highway, ensure toll-free travel across India today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Chandigarh

AHEAD of the farmers scaling up their agitation against the three contentious farm sector reform laws, the government on Friday sought to alert them about vested interests trying to appropriate their platform for anti-national activities.

The advisory came from Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar, who made a fresh appeal to resolve the stand-off through dialogue.

Tagging a news report about posters coming up at the Tikri border protest site demanding the release of some activists arrested under various charges, Tomar tweeted, "Anti-social elements are conspiring to spoil the atmosphere of the peasant movement under the guise of farmers."

As for the farmer unions, they sought to put the headline-grabbing nationwide rail roko agitation in abeyance a day after making the threat, but said there was no rethink on plans to block the Delhi-Jaipur highway and making all toll plazas free for commuters across the country on Saturday.

In Punjab, farmer leaders intend to hold protests outside BJP's offices and those of Deputy Commissioners. The Congress, too, will stage a demonstration at the Shambu border abutting Punjab and Haryana simultaneously.

Bharatiya Kisan Union, Punjab (Rajewal) president Balbir Singh Rajewal said, "As of now there is no plan to stop trains across the country." The idea behind the rethink is to not inconvenience the public at large and lose their sympathy.

Tomar continued playing the waiting game, saying "Our proposal is with the farmers. They discussed it but we have not received any official reply yet." But Bharatiya Kisan Union leader Rakesh Tikait said it was for the government to take the initiative. "They should tell us when and where they want to meet, as they did earlier. If they invite us, we will discuss it internally and take a decision," Tikait said. P9

Govt will bring ordinance on cow slaughter: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after the government held back from tabling the contentious Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Bill in the Legislative Council, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa said an ordinance will be promulgated to give effect to it.

"We will bring in an ordinance (on cow slaughter). You know that the Council Chairman was not cooperating," the CM remarked. He also performed 'Gau Pooja' (cow worship) at his official residence 'Cauvery' here on Friday morning in the backdrop of the passage of the Bill in the Assembly.

"It is known worldwide that in Hindu dharma, cows are revered. In India, which is an agrarian country, animal husbandry is a source of income for agriculturists and cattle are used in farming activities too. Cows are considered an asset in the Indian culture. The Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Bill has been passed by the Legislative Assembly, which further strengthens the existing law," he said.

He said that his government was committed to strengthening laws for protection of cows, and added that necessary arrangements will be made by setting up infrastructure for cows to be taken care of. "Ninety per cent of the state's people are happy with the Bill. We had talked about it (anti-cow slaughter law) in our election manifesto. In the previous tenure of the BJP government, we had brought in legislation against cow slaughter, but it was not given assent then. Now we are bringing it to effect once again," he said.

The CM also expressed reservations about Council Chairman K Pratapachandra Shetty's adjourning the House sine die. The government has decided to convene the House again on Tuesday, he added. "The Council Chairman doesn't have the powers to abruptly adjourn the House," the CM insisted.

BJP MLCs appeal to Governor against Council chairman

Six BJP members of the Legislative Council, led by minister Kota Sreenivas Poojary, formally lodged a complaint with Governor Vajubhai Vala at Raj Bhavan on Friday, against Council Chairperson K Pratapchandra Shetty. The members -- Ravi Kumar, Arun Shahapur, Mahantesh Kavatagimath, Ayanur Manjunath, and Tejaswini Gowda -- accused Shetty of adjourning the House sine die on Thursday, before completion of the day's agenda. PASSENGERS bore the brunt of the strike by employees of state-run transport corporations, with bus services being disrupted across the state for the second day.

In the state capital, Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation services were completely halted whereas the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation operated 50 per cent of its schedules and other transport corporations operated only about 35 per cent of schedules on Friday.

Many commuters, including students, were stranded at the Kempegowda bus station and other bus terminals in Bengaluru. Passengers heading out from Bengaluru too were stuck.

The agitation was by and large peaceful barring a few incidents of stone-throwing on government buses at Nelamangala on the outskirts of Bengaluru, Kalaburagi, Shivamogga and Channapatna.

A majority of long-distance buses starting from Mysuru had to cut short their trips or terminate the services. However, city bus services were unaffected.

Passengers headed to Bengaluru, Mandya and Shivamogga from Tumakuru were left with no option but to crowd the few private buses that were operating. In Kolar, people had to depend on autorickshaws and taxis. Bus services in Chikkaballapur and Hassan districts were also affected during the day.

In Shivamogga, buses plied till 10 am, but services were suspended after miscreants pelted stones at a bus near Machenahalli. While services were stopped in Kalaburagi after 11 am, they were resumed after 4.30 pm. A bus that was on its way to Kalaburagi from Ganagapur was stoned near the Kalaburagi Bench of the High Court, leaving the driver with minor injuries. P2

INDIA'S FACTORY OUTPUT GROWS 3.6% IN OCTOBER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

SIGNALLING what appears to be a sustained recovery, India's industrial production rose to an eight-month high of 3.6% in October on the back of pickup in manufacturing, consumer goods and power sectors. The IIP had contracted by 6.6% in October 2019.

However, experts warn it is too early to celebrate as the latest numbers are not so impressive considering the festive push and the low base last year.

"Coming on the base of a 6.6% contraction in October 2019, the 3.6% growth in the IIP in October 2020 is decidedly modest, and suggests that caution in the interpretation of the strength of the economic recovery is still warranted," Aditi Nayar, Principal Economist, ICRA said.

According to data by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation, the manufacturing sector, which has a weightage of 77.6% in the IIP, recorded 3.5% in October. In the year-ago period, the sector had contracted 5.7%. Meanwhile, the consumer durables segment posted an impressive growth of 17.6% in October compared with 18.9% contraction in the same period a year ago.

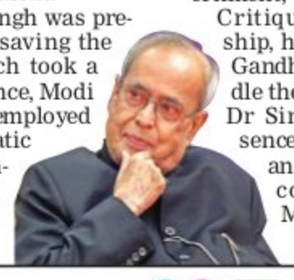
Dada's book: Sloppy Sonia, autocratic Modi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi employed a rather autocratic style of functioning, former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh was pre-occupied with saving the coalition government, which took a toll on governance, and Congress chief Sonia Gandhi was unable to handle party affairs, late President Pranab Mukherjee has written in the fourth volume of his autobiography to be released in January 2021.

Pranab, who wrapped up work on the memoir days before he passed away on August 31, feels "the party's leadership lost political focus after my elevation as President."

"While Dr Singh was pre-occupied with saving the coalition, which took a toll on governance, Modi seemed to have employed a rather autocratic style of governance during his first term, as seen by the bitter relationship among the government, the legislature, and the judiciary. Only time will tell if there is a better understanding of such matters in the second term of this government," Pranab writes.



Critiquing Sonia's leadership, he says: "While Sonia Gandhi was unable to handle the affairs of the party, Dr Singh's prolonged absence from the House put an end to any personal contact with other MPs."

Transport strike enters 2nd day; Savadi to meet unions again today

'₹30L relief to kin of deceased employees'

Transport Minister Laxman Savadi said that within 15 days, the government will give a relief of Rs 30 lakh to the kin of each KSRTC employee who died of Covid-19. He met with leaders of SRTC unions on Friday and appealed to the workers to return to work. "There is a demand to make them permanent employees, for which I will convene a meeting with the CM," Savadi said, adding that action will be taken against senior officials ill-treating staff. He said the SRTCs had incurred losses of Rs 3,000 crore due to the pandemic.

'Strike without notice illegal'

According to a circular issued by BMTC Director (Vigilance), calling for a strike without prior notice, has been held as illegal. Public transport is considered an essential service, and it is the responsibility of every staff member to attend duty. The circular directs staff to ensure there is no disruption in services.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

COMMUTERS were stranded across Bengaluru after Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) withdrew services, with transport corporation employees striking work.

Stranded commuters had to opt for costlier modes of transport, like cabs and autorickshaws. Passengers who had booked Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) bus tickets reached their respective bus terminals to find very few buses plying.

The strike entered the second day, with employees demanding salaries and perks on par with state government employees. "The strike will continue for a few more days as the government has been unresponsive to our demands, though it has funds for ideas like the Maratha Development Corporation. No employee will be on duty," K Thippeswamy, general secretary, Karnataka Sarige Employees Okkuta, said.

Protesting employees of BMTC, KSRTC, North Western Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (NWKRTC) and North Eastern Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (NEKRTC) had joined farmers in the statewide protest on Thursday, although buses were plying. The stir was largely eclipsed by the farmers' agitation in Bengaluru and other places in the state.

However, on Friday, no BMTC bus plied in the city, while KSRTC operated only 50 per cent of its services and NWKRTC and NEKRTC operated 35 per cent of their fleets, according to transport department officials. This, despite Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa's appeal to them to return to work.

DyCM Laxman Savadi, who holds the transport portfolio, also held a meeting with union leaders of transport corporation employees, to urge them to withdraw their strike. Sources in the transport minister's office said another round of discussions is due on Saturday. Some KSRTC, NWKRTC and NEKRTC buses which plied were reportedly pelted with stones at Nelamangala, near Bengaluru, Kalaburagi city and Channapatna in Ramanagara district. Apart from these sporadic incidents, the stir was generally peaceful.

Agitating employees staged a unique protest at Yeshwanthpur by cooking and eating in the middle of the road, under the blazing sun.

BMRCL to run more trips today

To mitigate inconvenience to the public due to the ongoing bus strike, Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited will operate all its 50 train sets by stepping up frequency during peak and non-peak hours from Saturday. According to a release, top-up facility of cards as well as new cards are available at all stations.

Alert citizens seize truck with effluents

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

Alert Bengalureans seized a truck carrying chemical pollutants before its contents were dumped into Vrushabhavathi Valley early on Friday morning.

The residents of Banashankari and members of Namami Vrushabhavathi, who formed a squad, set out on road around 3 am and seized the vehicle at Banashankari 6th stage 2nd block.

Suresh R, a local resident and member of Namami Vrushabhavathi, told The New Indian Express, "We knew that miscreants were dumping the waste in some places which had led to a bad stench in the valley and the colour of water too was changing. While patrolling the area at the narrowed-down location, we (cab driver appointed by KSPCB, a security guard from KSPCB and another man along with Suresh) kept a watch from a distance. We earlier saw 3-4 cabs patrolling the area. After some time, a tanker with its headlights off reached the location and was about to release the effluents when we stopped them and caught them red-handed," he said.

> We are exploring the option of forming a team by involving citizens. We are watching the action of officials too
> Srinivasulu, KSPCB official

They got hold of the tanker's keys and his documents, and the driver called up his owner, Santosh, who came to spot in less than 10 minutes. "Santosh threatened me and even called up a pollution control board official. I dialed 100 and two Hoysala vehicles reached the spot. Sighting the presence of the police, all of them fled. The police, however, seized the vehicle. An FIR has also been registered," Suresh said.

The locals who were part of the drive blamed the KSPCB for not being at the site and letting the culprits escape. They also accused KSPCB of being hand in cahoots with some of the polluters.

This is the second such incident this year. In February, the KSPCB on a tipoff had seized a vehicle releasing effluents. During that seizure too, the accused had escaped.

KSPCB Member Secretary Srinivasulu said the Board had held a meeting with citizens to let them help officials. "The Marshals are patrolling the area round the clock. Soon, four more vehicles and teams will be deployed. We are exploring the option of forming a team by involving citizens. We are watching the action of officials too," he added.

Metro ridership crosses one lakh a day

The daily ridership on Metro trains has finally crossed one lakh after it resumed services on September 7, three months after Metro resumed operations. "The record remains same since Thursday," said B L Yashavanth Chavan, chief PRO, BMRCL. "On Thursday, 1,00,287 passengers were on board, followed by 1,00,510 people on Wednesday, our highest patronage so far," he added. "Between December 1 and December 10, our overall average has been 83,200 passengers a day," Chavan said. However, statistics before March this year reveal that this is not even one-fifth of the average of 5 lakh passengers per day, Chavan said.

Park vehicles at your own risk at Baiyappanahalli Metro Station

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

COMMUTERS who park their vehicles at the parking lot near the main entry (Old Madras Road) of Baiyappanahalli Metro Station, have reason to worry. The vast parking bay has no guard to issue tokens, and no CCTV cameras either.

The previous parking contractor's term expired many months ago, while the new one is yet to take charge. This is the situation since September 7, when train operations restarted after the lockdown. The cubicle at this entry is in rundown condition, with an A4 sheet stating in bold, 'Free Parking At Owners Risk'.

Commuters who alight at 'A' entrance of Baiyappanahalli station and head to the parking lot to pick their vehicles are often relieved to note that their vehicles are still there.

Among them is E Kishore, a businessman from Hoskote, who comes to Bengaluru on and off on work. "I park my bike and head to Majestic Metro Station. I am really worried that no one is manning the space here. I saw a group of young boys loitering around and questioned them but they looked like anti-social elements. I questioned them on what they are doing."

Parking fee

- Parking fee charged till March-end and at rear entry
- Open from 7am to 10pm, overnight parking not allowed
- For two-wheeler: ₹15 for 3 hours, maximum of ₹30 for 12 hours
- For four-wheelers: ₹30 minimum fee, ₹60 for 12 hours

Dev Ashish, a third-year college student, who commutes daily to RV Road Metro station, said he feels insecure about leaving his scooter in the morning and taking the Metro for classes. "There are no CCTV cameras. Whom do we hold accountable if something happens to the vehicle?" A few other vehicle owners said they don't mind paying a small parking fee.

Rakesh Sharma, who was parking his high-end car here, had no complaints. "I get good parking space for free. I go to Jayanagar by the Metro every day. Hope this continues."

BMRCL Chief Public Relations Officer B L Yashavanth Chavan said, "The old parking contract has expired and the new contractor is yet to start." He could not specify when the new one will open shop.

PETER VIDAL

12th December: My featured sign today is Gemini, the sign of the twins. Geminians are wonderful people but they do have a strange quality which the rest of us have trouble keeping up with: their ability to be two people at once, do two things at the same time, and be in two places simultaneously. That's quite a skill, and one of which I am in total awe!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You definitely now need the full support, goodwill and co-operation of partners or close companions. This advice applies as much to your personal affairs as to your ambitions at work. Actually, the best backing could come from distant, far-away places.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Six planets offer you their support and assistance. So this should be a positive period. If you run into difficulties, this is a message that somehow you are doing something radically wrong and failing to make the most of your many personal advantages.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There's a little-known point in your horoscope known as the north node. This factor is now due to be responsible for increasing good fortune from secret matters and discreet connections. It will also show you the way forward in your closest family relationships.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There may be some slight emotional stress, as family members are thrown together in unexpected circumstances. You have a perfectly free choice as to whether you get involved or stand to one side as they slug it out. The choice, as ever, is yours, and yours alone.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mars is still agitating the financial sector of your solar horoscope, so don't complain if you have been cut short, or if a financial matter is more costly than you expected. The situation will soon become more stable, enabling you to salvage a major achievement.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Hopefully many parts of the jigsaw will now fit into place. You've worked hard enough over the past few weeks, and every single piece of good luck that comes your way will be thoroughly well-deserved. Continue to check out a financial offer.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Social stars are ideal, mainly thanks to the continuing varied and helpful alignments of Mercury, Venus and Mars. There is little pressure to finalise transactions and agreements or to meet social deadlines, so you can afford to set your own pace - and stick to it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There are emotional hurdles to be cleared and individuals to be put in their place. However, you don't know the full picture and a little tolerance and humility would not come amiss. What seems most likely at the moment, is that you will be able to persuade a partner that you meant well, even if it didn't seem like it at the time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have probably encountered so much aggravation in the past that nothing can surprise you now. You must plan a relaxing weekend, especially if you're recovering from professional battles. Find whatever way you can to soothe your troubled brow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It would be extremely unwise to be complacent about current partnership problems just because other people seem to be happier than usual. Now is the time to clear up a few long-standing difficulties. Mind you, while a number of facts are still secret, there may be no final solution.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Although you are by nature an outgoing person, circumstances have reduced you to a somewhat secretive, private frame of mind. Other people have no automatic right to intrude on your personal affairs - so why let them? You'd probably do best to throw them some small morsels of comfort, while keeping what is really important to yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Jupiter is now taking up a position that urges you to be more self-disciplined and determined. You want to attain your dreams, but to do this you must finally get to grips with the practical details. Actually, you're often better at dealing with such matters than you imagine - or than other people expect.

Doctors protest 'mixopathy', stay away from hospitals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OUTPATIENT medical services were shut between 6am and 6pm across the state on Friday, in response to a call given by the Indian Medical Association to protest the permission given to Ayurveda practitioners to perform general surgery.

Although outpatient services were shut, emergency and Covid services were not disrupted. Resident doctors too backed the IMA and staged protests holding placards and candles. Karnataka state secretary of the IMA Dr Srinivas S said, "The Centre's decision can compromise patient care. Not everyone can do surgeries. We can't allow mixopathy. If this is not stopped, we will approach the Supreme Court."

General secretary for IMA Yelahanka, Dr Suri Raju also expressed concerns about the quality of care patients would receive. "Mixopathy is fundamentally not good for patients. Certain issues arise out of such decisions. What about pre-anaesthetic medication? Will it be AYUSH drugs? What about anaesthesia? Does AYUSH have its own drugs and procedures?"

He also raised questions about post-operative care and infection control. "How will a system not subscribing to microbial theory find a way to control sepsis? Will it be a throwback to 19th century septic wards?" he asked. Dr Suri also raised questions about how the government would find resources to create infrastructure for the new "modern medicine B team".

CEO of Prakriya Hospitals, Dr Srinivas Chirukuri, said that modern medicine must be practised by trained people. "It is easy to take vulnerable patients for a ride. The government's move seems to be poorly thought through and can make things worse. There is a lack of transparency and the proposal looks unscientific to us."

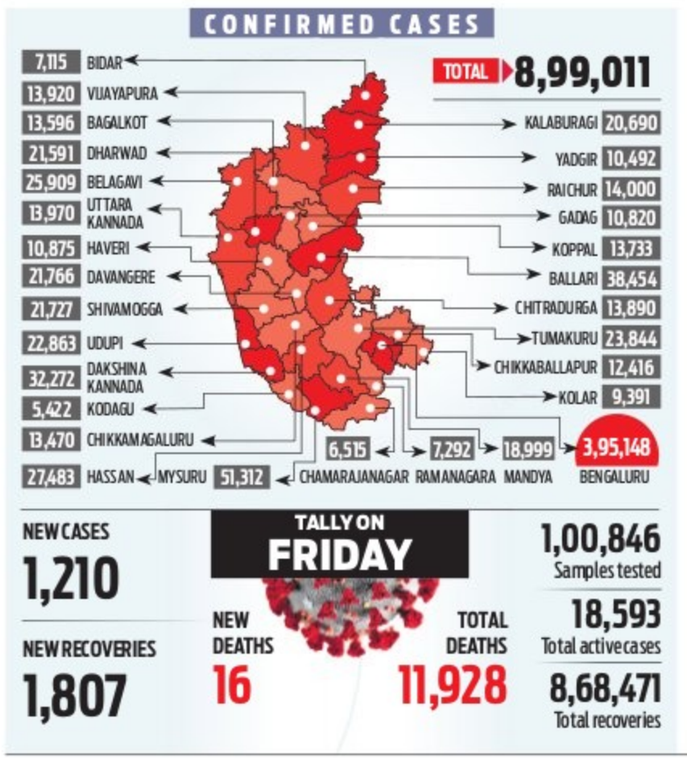
Karnataka's case fatality rate drops to 1%

BENGALURU: Although Karnataka's overall Case Fatality Rate (CFR) has seen improvement, dropping to 1% during the past week, a closer look shows that fatalities are higher in some districts than in others. State war room data shows the CFR for Bengaluru has come down to 1.2% in the past week, but it is still high in districts such as Bidar (12.5%), Dakshina Kannada (5.1%), Ballari (2.8%), Dharwad (2.3%) and Kolar (2.1%). Experts say that improved testing at the district level and early treatment would help reduce the CFR. At present, over 30,000 tests are being done in Bengaluru Urban each day, while the number is below 4,000 in most other districts. ENS

NO PUBLIC GATHERINGS ON NEW YEAR'S EVE



Pubs, bars, hotels to use only half seating capacity, says Sudhakar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PUBLIC celebration on New Year's eve will not be allowed on MG Road and Brigade Road in Bengaluru, or anywhere else in the state, Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said on Friday.

The government has also issued directions to restrict gatherings for Christmas, New Year, weddings, religious and other gatherings, to under 200 between December 20 and January 2, Sudhakar told the media after a heading a review meeting.

Pubs, bars and hotels must only use half of their seating capacity through New Year festivities, Revenue Minister R Ashok said.

These decisions were made in light of the state possibly experiencing a second wave of Covid infections. Deputy Chief Minister Govind Karjol has been appointed chairman of the Covid Taskforce.

Sudhakar also said that testing targets and containment measures were discussed to keep infections down during the next three months in 10 districts: Bengaluru Urban, Bengaluru Rural, Ballari, Yadgir, Dakshina Kannada, Belagavi, Bidar, Haveri and Udupi.

"The State is well-prepared for a possible second wave of the pandemic. Ten district hospitals and 30 taluk hospitals have been provided with Rs 37.72 crore for procuring oxygen generators and other equipment. Rs 11.32 crore has been set aside to purchase Rapid Antigen Test kits and Rs 22.5 crore earmarked to purchase medicine for the next 90 days," Dr Sudhakar said.

He also said that the government had received complaints that private hospitals were overcharging for the anti-viral drug remdesivir, for which the government charges Rs 1,800. He said action will be taken against such hospitals under the Karnataka Private Medical Establishments Act.

Lacunae in uploading vaccine information on the ICMR portal, will be addressed in a day. The government has identified 30,000 vaccination sites, 1.1 lakh vaccinators and five lakh beneficiaries, he said.

A touching story: Visually impaired now helpless

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

WHILE Covid-19 has made all of us rethink the basic human act of touching, the lives of visually impaired people – who rely on their sense of touch to be independent – have been made more difficult as people fear touching them to help.

Darshan K B, an employee at a public sector bank in Mysuru, said that visually impaired people like him cannot own vehicles and have to rely on public transport. "We depend on buses and now, with the need to maintain physical distance, people don't help us board the bus, alight, cross the road... as they used to before the pandemic. When we go to office, there is no one to guide us to the desk and we do not know if the desk is cleaned. We need to touch and feel to survive," Darshan said.

He said that if a visually impaired person contracts Covid, there would be no one to care for them during home isolation. However, he considers himself lucky as he has the option to work from home, although not all banks have given done so.

Kumar Nayak, who recently completed his postgraduate degree in political science, says that while online classes are preferred, not all colleges are accessible to visually impaired people. "Some of us have to take the risk of attending physical classes. Disability-friendly technology in smart phones only hit the market one-and-a-half years ago, but not everyone is tech-savvy enough to be able to use them for online classes and submitting assignments. We need help to get around, but this pandemic has ruled that out for us," he said.

Kumar's friend Diwakar B R, in his second year of a postgraduate degree in journalism and mass communication, said that while technology and apps have made education accessible to them, network connectivity is a problem, especially in rural areas.

People with disabilities have been among the worst-affected by the lockdown and pandemic, said Pranesh Nagri, honorary director of Enable India, a Bengaluru-based NGO that works towards helping people with disabilities learn their livelihood.

"During the lockdown, it was difficult for visually impaired people to buy medicines as they could not step out without help, nor were they able to order online as a sighted person can do. We even received calls from people saying they had no food. We distributed gloves, medicines, hand sprays in our network," Nagri said, adding that for the hearing impaired, communicating Covid Dos and Don'ts was an uphill task as most do not know sign language.

"Even those who are in wheelchairs, use crutches or walkers, require touch, feel and the support of others to move around, get on and off transport and more, which has been missing due to Covid restrictions," Nagri added.

Chairman adjourned House sine die, despite Business Advisory Committee deciding to continue session till Tuesday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A group of six BJP members of the Legislative Council, led by Muzrai Minister Kota Sreenivas Poojary, on Friday formally lodged a complaint with Governor Vajubhai Vala against Council Chairperson Prakash Chandra Shetty for adjourning the House sine die on Thursday evening, even though the agenda of the House was not completed.

The BJP MLCs — Ravi Kumar, Arun Shahapur, Mahantesh Kavatagimath, Ayanur Manjunath and Tejaswini Gowda — mentioned in the complaint that the chairman cannot adjourn the House unilaterally, and asked the Governor to intervene and reconvene the Council to complete the House business. They also pointed out that the chairman did not inform them about the proceedings of the Business Advisory Committee meeting.

Muzrai Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary, BJP MLC Ayanur Manjunath and others lodge a complaint with Governor Vajubhai Vala in Bengaluru on Friday

BJP members on Wednesday attempted to remove Shetty by moving a no-confidence motion, but had to withdraw after Congress members protested, saying it was not listed in the agenda.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa said that they are planning to convene the Council on Tuesday to take up pending issues. "The Council Chairman doesn't have the powers to adjourn the House abruptly (sine die). It was decided at the Business Advisory Committee meeting to conduct the session till Tuesday or Wednesday and the chairman was present at those meetings. Still, he resorted to adjourn the House," he added.

The government is consulting legal experts to explore the options before it, while Law Minister J C Madhuswamy said the original plan was to keep the Council in session till Tuesday and adjourn the Assembly on Thursday. But the Council chairman adjourned the House along with the Assembly, he added.

With 31 members, plus an independent, BJP is the single-largest party in the Legislative Council, but the chairman's post still rests with Congress. The Congress has 29 members, including the chairman, while JDS has 14. The BJP had expected the JDS, which helped it pass farm laws in the Council, to extend support in removing Shetty and electing a chairman from its own party. Also, the BJP did not table anti-cow slaughter Bill in the Council, fearing that it would be defeated without the support of JDS.

Former Council Chairman V R Sudarshan, an expert on the issue, said, "The Governor, who is the head of the legislature, has the right to reconvene the House. The Chairman of the Council has to go by the decision of the Business Advisory Committee, which has members from both ruling and opposition parties."

GRAM PANCHAYAT POLLS

Going, going, gone: Seat in Kolar auctioned for ₹5L

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolar

IN continuing mockery of the democratic system and the poll process at the very grassroots level, a seat in Madderi Gram Panchayat in Kolar was allegedly auctioned for ₹5 lakh recently.

Sources from the village told The New Indian Express that Madderi Gram Panchayat has 13 villages under it and the auctioning was for one of the seats from Iragasandra Bedli village. The villagers allegedly picked candidates interested in contesting the election and asked them to bid for the seat. In the auction, Sreeramappa is said to have won by placing the highest bid of ₹5 lakh. In an unsaid diktat, the villagers have now decided to vote en masse for him when the election is held on December 23, the sources said.

As the message reached the taluk administration, the tahsildar filed a complaint with the Vemgal police, who are investigating.

This is the latest in several such incidents from across the state. Auctioning of seats has been reported from Aslipura under Doddanaravangala Gram Panchayat in Tumakuru Rural. The videos of the auctioning at Kalaburagi and Ballari districts have gone viral on social media.

The bidding seems to continue unabated despite deputy commissioners issuing a strict warning to perpetrators. The DCs have said that criminal proceedings will be initiated against people involved in these acts and requested people to come forward and file complaints against auctioning of seats if they are privy to the information. The aim is to ensure free and fair polls, they have said.

Villagers told The New Indian Express that the practice is not new and during every Gram Panchayat election, over the years, seats have been sold to the highest bidders.

'SUCH ACTS DEFEAT THE PURPOSE OF ELECTIONS'

Davangere: State secretary of the KPCC social media cell KL Harish Basapura on Friday expressed disappointment over the auctioning of some Gram Panchayats seats in the district and state. "These type of auctions defeat the purpose of elections, democracy, and the Constitution. Hence, such acts shouldn't be allowed," he added. He said the government should identify such illegal acts and ensure that the victory of such candidates is declared invalid. "Even though allegations have been made against certain candidates and constituencies, the administration is not acting against them, which is sad. If such this is allowed, there will be a time when Parliament seats, legislative council and assembly seats, and taluk and zilla panchayat seats will also be auctioned," he added. ENS

Priests of Sringeri at the foundation ceremony for the new Sansad Bhavan in Delhi | EXPRESS

Four Sringeri mutt priests guided Sansad Bhavan rituals

B THIPPERUDRAPPA
@Chikkamagaluru

THE new Sansad Bhavan in New Delhi appears to have a cosmic connection with Sringeri in Karnataka. When Prime Minister Narendra Modi performed the bhoomi pujan rituals on Thursday to lay the foundation for the new Sansad Bhavan, it was under the guidance of Sringeri seer Sri Bharathi Theertha Swami and in the presence of Sringeri's Veda pundits.

Modi entrusted the responsibility of rituals to Union parliamentary minister Pralhad Joshi, who contacted Sringeri Jagadguru Sri Bharathi Theertha Swami. The seer agreed to send four Veda pundits of the mutt to Delhi to carry out the pujas. Mutt priests TV Shivakumara Sharma, KS Lakshminarayana Somayaji, KS Ganesh Somayaji and C Nagaraj Adiga left for Delhi, and were joined by Raghavendra Bhat and Rishyasringa, pundits of the Delhi branch of Sringeri mutt.

It is a matter of pride for Kannadigas, the priests say. Sharing his experience, Raghavendra Bhat said it was a rare lifetime opportunity to conduct the rituals in the presence of the PM. "The new parliament house is believed to be a temple for the people and elected representatives," he said.

Shanku made of wood and navaratna peeta blessed by the Sringeri seer were installed, and a silver brick resembling shilanyas was placed by PM Modi. After the shilanyas programme, he referred to Anubhava Mantapa, the religious parliament set up by 12th century social reformer Sri Basaveshawara at Kalyan in Karnataka, and also spoke in Kannada, expressing the wish that the new Sansad Bhavan is like the Anubhava Mantapa.

'It's great that PM mentioned Basavanna'

Sixty years before the Magna Carta, considered the mother of parliament and democracy, Basavanna set up Anubhava Mantapa in Kalyan to discuss dharma and society. It is great that PM Modi has recognised Anubhava Mantapa on the national platform, said Sri Basava Marulasidda Swami of Basava Kendra, Shivamogga.

Cow bill draconian, burdens Dalits: Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a scathing attack on the government for resorting to the ordinance route to push the Cow Slaughter legislation in its present form, Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah, KPCC president D K Shivakumar and other Congress leaders on Friday alleged that the bill is being brought in only for 'emotional reasons'.

The leaders said that the Bill is not new and has been in force since 1964. While the Karnataka Prevention of Cow Slaughter and Cattle Prevention Act of 1964 had taken into consideration the plight of farmers, its latest avatar being presented by the BJP government has ignored the reality.

"It is draconian as it economically burdens the Dalits, OBCs and farmers. Each head of cattle consumes about 6 kg of fodder per day and where will a small farmer, who is on the brink of poverty, can source this," Siddaramaiah asked.

"The government supplies have been erratic and undependable. Worse, there has been almost 15 years of drought in the state, and with farmers living under penury, this law will only add to their burden," the Congress leaders said.

If the government is concerned, it should bring a 'uniform law' across the country, including Kerala, Goa and the North-East, on cow slaughter, he said. "If a piece of legislation is being passed based on 'mere feelings without a proper study' then it amounts to fascism. Poorest of Dalits, OBCs and marginalised sections consume beef because it is cheap. If Congress comes to power, we will roll back all anti-people policies of this government," he added.

> India is second in the world in leather trade, providing direct and indirect employment to lakhs of people. The leather industry earns the country $5.5 billion. Has the government done a thorough study of the socio-economic impact of this legislation before tabling it?
> Siddaramaiah, CLP leader

"Each year, 3.4 crore male calves are born in the state and in 10 years their numbers reach a whopping 34 crore. Also, every year about six crore cows stop yielding milk because they are 10-12 years old. Who will look after them? Farmers travel length and breadth of the state and country to sell their unproductive cattle. When not sold, these cattle are abandoned, and they roam around as strays. After Uttar Pradesh passed the anti-cow slaughter bill, over 50 lakh heads of cattle are seen on the streets without proper shelter or fodder," he said.

Quoting the figures of economist Vikas Rawal, Siddaramaiah said, "Also, India is second in the world in leather trade and accounts for 11 per cent of supplies, providing direct and indirect employment to lakhs of people. The leather industry earns the country $5.5 billion. Has the government done a thorough study of the socio-economic impact of this legislation before tabling it" he asked.

Govt to create awareness on farm bills

ENS @Bengaluru

THE government will organise farmers' awareness programmes across the state to create awareness on various farm Bills passed by the State and the Centre.

At a joint press conference, Ministers R Ashoka and S T Somashekar said the programmes will be organised in four different regions and Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa will launch the event in Bengaluru. Speaking on land reforms, Ashoka said that earlier, when farmers wanted to sell their land, middlemen would benefit more. "All the bills are pro-farmer. Land reforms were initiated by the Congress and now they are protesting in the name of farmers, wearing green shawls," he taunted.

On the anti-cow slaughter Bill, Ashoka said the cow is a sacred animal. "Siddaramaiah asked if farmers can leave their aged cows at BJP's office. I appeal to him to bring old cattle and old people, and the BJP will take care of them. We knew that they (Congress) were planning to push this bill into cold storage and we did not want that to happen. So we decided not to table it in the Council. But it will be passed and implemented in the coming days," he insisted.

Opinion divided over ST status for Kurubas

Bengaluru: The agitation by the Kuruba community demanding Scheduled Tribe status has gathered momentum. Minister K S Eshwarappa and others have take up the issue and achieved success in Bagalkot. However, another group of leaders including MLAs Byrati Suresh, Yatheendra Siddaramaiah, and former member of the Backward Classes Commission B K Ravi, told Eshwarappa that there was no need for an agitation as the BJP was in power at the Centre and State. They also questioned the necessity for ST status as the community is recognised as ST in Kodagu (Jenu Kuruba), Bidar, and other areas. ENS

'JAIRAM'S TIGER VIDEO NOT FROM KODAGU OR INDIA'

Screen grab of a tiger bathing in a tub that former Union Environment Minister Jairam Ramesh had posted

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

RAJYA Sabha MP and former Union Environment Minister Jairam Ramesh found himself in troubled waters after posting a video of a tiger bathing in a tub, stating that it was from Coorg (Kodagu) in Karnataka.

When news reached Kodagu, home to Rajiv Gandhi National Park (Nagarhole Tiger Reserve), the Karnataka forest department was quick to clarify that the video was not from Karnataka, or any other part of India.

Officials said the video appears to be shot outside India, as indicated by the body of the subadult tiger and background vegetation.

"The video is most likely from one of the large cat farms in the US. The tiger's sleek body, log shed, background foliage and rubber bathtub proves the video is from one of those farms. The vegetation and wooden cabin is also proof that it is not Kodagu," an official said.

Former Union Environment Minister Jairam Ramesh

The forest department directed officials in Nagarahole Tiger Reserve to check if the video was from any private farm around, as there are cases of tigers roaming outside Nagarahole in Kodagu district.

However, there was no clarification by Jairam Ramesh for his tweet. In fact, the tweet was shared by Mahindra Group chairman Anand Mahindra, who has a long-time connection with Kodagu, having spent some childhood years here. Mahindra Group also has a large estate near Nagarahole, which set off rumours locally that the tiger video was from the Mahindra estate.

However, speculation was laid to rest after forest officials clarified that the video was not from India.

Wildlife conservationist from Kodagu P M Muthanna suggests that often, tiger videos are shared on social media platforms stating different locations.

"This must be controlled or it will create panic among people. Photographers and videographers must watermark and add locations on the video to avoid confusion," he said.

STREAM OF SORROW

Ballari villagers carry dead across rivulet for cremation

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@Ballari

EVERY death at Madere village of Kurugodu taluk in Ballari comes with not just the despair of losing a loved one, but also with an added hardship. The villagers here have to carry the body across a stream for cremation and it is next to impossible to do so, during monsoon when the stream is in spate.

With the monsoon over this year, the villagers are now demanding that the administration should find a solution before the next monsoon and are threatening to boycott the upcoming Gram Panchayat elections if no decision is taken.

The village, with a population of just over 6,000, has been neglected for the last several years. Though the issue has been brought to the notice of administration officials, no alternative site has been allocated for the cremation ground, the villagers complained.

Nagappa H, a resident of the village, said that the dead in the village get no respect they deserve. "It is the same story every year. The administration wakes up only when the monsoon arrives and funerals are held up in our village. The officials have been promising us that a permanent cremation ground would be set up. But it remains only on paper," he said.

Another villager said the site where cremations are carried out now is very small.

"There is no other place outside the village that belongs to the government. We are asking the officials to construct a bridge across the stream and to identify a place for the cremation," he added.

A man was arrested by the Rajagopalanagar police in connection with a gold theft case. Police said Manoj, a resident Peenya, was a throwball coach at a private school and had no income during lockdown. He allegedly stole 45 grams gold jewellery from his friend's house. The valuables have been recovered.

2 African nationals held for skimming ATMs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TUMAKURU police have busted a cross-country ATM skimming fraud racket and arrested two Africans – a Ugandan and a Kenyan – who had allegedly withdrawn over ₹25 lakh from ATMs of 10 banks, in cities across the country.

"The accused, Aiwan and Lawrence, withdrew huge amounts of cash using duplicate ATM cards," said Inspector General of Police, Central Range, Seemant Kumar Singh.

It's the modus operandi of Aiwan and Lawrence that has shocked the police. "They gathered data of ATMs which are old and do not have in-built anti-skimming device. They drove around Bengaluru, Tumakuru, Mumbai, Chennai and Vellore, where they skimmed the machines. They travelled in a Delhi-registered Honda CR-V," the IGP said.

Accused Aiwan and Lawrence; (left) Duplicate ATM cards and skimming devices used by them | EXPRESS

Fraudsters skim ATMs by placing a stealth device on the face of an ATM, which appears to be part of the machine. They install a small pinhole camera in a brochure holder near the ATM, in order to extract a user's PIN. The skimmers gather account data from the cards swiped at the ATM, put it on blank or duplicate cards, and use the PIN to withdraw cash.

"Preliminary investigation revealed that they had withdrawn over ₹25 lakh using duplicate debit cards from ATMs of 10 different banks. They used to withdraw small amounts at a time to escape detection. The figures of the unauthorised cash withdrawal are likely to go up as investigation picks up pace in other places," said Singh, adding that police are looking for two other accused, who are absconding.

The officer said in Tumakuru alone, there are 60 complaints regarding ATM skimming fraud, which led police to put together all complaints and a pattern emerged, and put them on the trail of the accused. The police have, meanwhile, alerted banks whose ATMs were compromised.

Aiwan and Lawrence came to India on student visas and are currently studying in New Delhi.

HC: Any scheme to help dead farmers' kin?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday directed the state government to place on record in a month, the scheme, if any, to provide relief to the families of farmers who died by suicide, and information of aid or grants given to such families.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajit Shetty directed the state to submit data on farmers who killed themselves between 2017 and 2020. The court was hearing PIL filed in 2019 by the Akhanda Karnataka Raitha Sangha, represented by its district convenor Mallanagoud Pariwan, which drew the court's attention to suicides and the failure of the State to disburse compensation under the Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana to farmers in Yadgir.

The State must also appoint an appropriate revenue officer to hold an inquiry into the causes of farmer suicides in Shahpur taluk of Yadgir district, and ascertain benefits or assistance provided to families of the deceased farmers, and submit a report within two months.

IN THE HC

The petitioner's advocate Clifton Rozario submitted that was there was an increase in the number of farmer suicides in the state. Between 1997 and 2016, 40,346 farmers had killed themselves, the highest in the country after Gujarat and Maharashtra. The bench noted that banks deduct the premium for crops notified under the PMFBY when they sanction a loan. Hence, it is the bank's duty to pay the premium to the empanelled insurance company and it is state-level coordination committee's responsibility to monitor the scheme, it said.

The bench also directed the Union Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare to file a statement of objections within a month.

Sanjjanaa gets bail, released

BENGALURU: Sandalwood actor Sanjjanaa Galrani walked out of the Bengaluru Central Prison on Friday evening after the Karnataka High Court granted her bail in the Sandalwood drug case on medical grounds. According to official sources, Sanjjanaa was released from the prison at around 9.20 pm. Sanjjanaa was arrested in September in the Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances Act and lodged in the Parappana Agrahara Central Prison for allegedly procuring and supplying drugs to people who attended high-profile parties in Bengaluru. Justice Sreenivas Harish Kumar allowed her bail petition on medical grounds. She had moved the court with a fresh bail plea, citing health issues, after her first application was rejected by the High Court on November 3. To check the reasons cited by the accused, the court ordered a thorough medical examination of Sanjjanaa by the doctors of government-run Vanivilas Hospital, which submitted the report to the court on Thursday. After hearing the arguments of the counsel of the accused and the special public prosecutor, Justice Kumar passed the order to release Sanjjanaa on bail with certain conditions. On September 28, 2020, the Special Court for NDPS cases in the city denied bail to Sanjjanaa, who was the 14th accused in the case. ENS

Youth killed in road accident, truck driver held

Bengaluru: A 24-year-old youth died while two others sustained minor injuries when a speeding truck hit their car on Nice Road on Friday. The deceased, Darshan Kumar, was a resident of Bagalagunte and hailed from Hassan. He was an engineer. His car driver and a friend sustained minor injuries in the accident. Police said the incident occurred around 8.30 am. An overspeeding overtook another vehicle and rammed the car from behind. "Kumar, who was in the rear seat, sustained fatal injuries, while the other two, sitting in the front seat, sustained minor injuries. The trio was rushed to a hospital but Kumar succumbed to his injuries en route," the police added. Kengeri traffic police have arrested the truck driver. ENS

Police arrest two, recover valuables worth ₹21 lakh

Bengaluru: The North Division police on Friday arrested two people in separate operations, and managed to crack 12 cases, recovering booty of Rs 21 lakh. Jalahalli police arrested a notorious burglar, who was earlier involved in 14 cases and recovered gold jewellery worth Rs 14 lakh. The accused has been identified as Srinivas alias Appu (42), a resident of Bhuvaneshwari Nagar in Hebbal. Police said the accused was arrested on December 3, when a patrol team intercepted him near a jewellery shop on MES Road. When he was questioned, he admitted that he had come there to sell a gold chain. Meanwhile, Subramanyanagar police arrested a burglar who had struck an insurance company. Lakshmana alias Soni (50), had allegedly committed the theft at the Rajajinagar branch of the company on September 2. ENS

Builder ends life, alleges harassment by landlord

Bengaluru: A man was found hanging from the ceiling of his house in BTM Layout on Thursday night. The deceased is Vivek Ananth (52), a builder by profession. Police said around 12 am, Vivek's wife Vaani found him hanging and alerted the police. Vivek was constructing a four-storey apartment on a land belonging to one KTK Raheem, who was allegedly harassing him for delaying the construction. Vivek left a suicide note, in which he alleged that there was financial row between Raheem and him and that the landowner was not allowing him to complete the project. "We are gathering more details to take legal action against Raheem. Based on a complaint filed by Vaani, Mico Layout police registered an abatement to suicide case against Raheem. KCR meets Shah, seeks flood relief

Telangana CM seeks permission to lift 3 tmcft of water from Kaleshwaram scheme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

IN a politically significant development, Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao on Friday called on Union Home Minister Amit Shah in Delhi and is understood to have sought him to release disaster management funds for flood-hit Hyderabad and other areas in the State. The State government has already requested the Central government to provide immediate financial assistance of ₹1,350 crore for flood relief in the State.

The meeting assumes importance as Amit Shah and the BJP carried out a bitter campaign against the TRS in the GHMC polls, even asserting that the saffron party would capture power in the State in 2023, unseating Chandrasekhar Rao.

Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao meets Union Home Minister Amit Shah in New Delhi on Friday | EXPRESS

The zonal system for employment, bifurcation of institutions listed under IX and X Schedules of AP Reorganisation Act, 2014 and other issues might have figured in the meeting between Chandrasekhar Rao and Amit Shah.

Earlier, the Chief Minister called on Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat and reportedly discussed irrigation issues pertaining to the State. He reportedly sought the Jal Shakti Ministry's permission for lifting 3 tmcft water from Kaleshwaram Lift Irrigation Scheme (KLIS). Now, the government has got permission to lift only two tmcft water from KLIS. Rao also raised objections over Andhra Pradesh government's proposed Rayalaseema Lift Irrigation Scheme.

Rao, who left for Delhi by a special flight from Hyderabad in the afternoon, will stay in the nation's capital for three days. He is expected to meet Civil Aviation Minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Saturday.

EMPLOYERS WORRY

WAGE PAYMENT: SC TO HEAR KERALA GOVT'S APPEAL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday agreed to hear an appeal filed by the Kerala government insisting on crediting the minimum wages directly to the bank accounts of the employees.

In 2015, Kerala had replaced cash payment of minimum wages with the Wage Payment System to streamline the payment to the employees. Under this system, all employers had to directly deposit the wages in the bank accounts of the employees.

This was challenged in the Kerala High Court and, earlier this year, it had upheld the maintenance of digital records but held that the state could not insist on employers to transfer wages through the Wage Payment System.

Apart from the state government, Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) also approached the apex court challenging the High Court direction to maintain digital records and stated that uploading such information would infringe on the privacy of employees.

During a brief hearing on Friday, a bench of Justices S K Kaul, Dinesh Maheshwari and Hrishikesh Roy said, "If both sides are unhappy, justice seems to have been done (by the high court)."

The Kerala High Court in its judgment had said, "There can be no ground taken of the maintenance of records digitally being against the provisions of the Act, since Sections 6 and 7 of the Information Technology Act, 2000 validates digital maintenance of documents, records or information which are to be maintained under any law and deems it to be a proper maintenance as per that enactment.

"It cannot also be alleged that there is a cumbersome procedure, since what has been earlier mandated to be physically recorded in registers has now been directed to be recorded in the electronic media." Rejecting the argument of infringement on the privacy, the bench said that the information was secured by password, ensuring no unauthorised third-party access.

ISRO to launch communication satellite on Dec 17

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) will launch its 42nd communication satellite, CMS-01, on December 17 from Satish Dhawan Space Centre (SDSC) in Sriharikota.

CMS-01 is a communication satellite envisaged for providing services in Extended-C Band of the frequency spectrum. The Extended-C Band coverage will include Indian mainland, Andaman-Nicobar and Lakshadweep islands. The launch is tentatively scheduled at 3.41 pm on December 17, depending on weather conditions. The satellite will be launched from the Second Launch Pad (SLP) of SDSC SHAR, Sriharikota.

The satellite will be launched on board a polar satellite launch vehicle (PSLV), PSLC-C50, which will be the 52nd mission of PSLV.

The PSLV-C50 will be the 22nd flight of PSLV in 'XL' configuration (with 6 strap-on motors), and will be the 77th launch vehicle mission from SDSC, Sriharikota. Chandrayaan-1, too, was launched on the PSLV 'XL' configuration in 2008.

CURIOUS CASE

Why not book CBI for theft: Madras HC

HARISH MURALI @ Chennai

THE Madras High Court on Friday ordered a CB-CID probe after it was found that 100kg of gold had gone missing from CBI custody. The crime was noticed after a vault supposed to contain 400kg of the metal, seized by the central agency from a private importer in 2012, was opened. The court wondered why the CBI should not be booked for theft.

The National Company Law Tribunal in 2019 ordered the CBI to hand over the gold to the company's liquidator, so that the proceeds can be distributed among banks that lent money to the company.

Exclude K'taka from Kasturirangan committee report: Farmers to govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Shivamogga

THE Shivamogga Zilla Adike Belegarara Sangha demanded that the state government exclude Karnataka from the purview of the K Kasturirangan committee report. They urged the state government to mount pressure on the Centre to not implement the report.

Convenor of the Sangha, B A Ramesh Hegde accused Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa and MP B Y Raghavendra for forcing the report on Karnataka.

"The BJP MPs and leaders promised the people of Malnad that they would stop the report from being implemented during the Assembly elections and the 2014 Lok Sabha elections. In the wake of the upcoming gram panchayat polls, they continue to promise people the same thing. Every time, an election is declared, the issue has been used for votes," he said.

The BJP MPs and leaders promised the people of Malnad that they would stop the report from being implemented during the Assembly elections and the 2014 Lok Sabha elections
B A Ramesh Hegde, Shivamogga Zilla Adike Belegarara Sangha convenor

He said that the report was unscientific and the government needs to address man-animal conflict by preserving the available forest area.

It was stated in the report that 1,573 villages of the state and 492 villages of the district need to be identified as eco-sensitive zones. Hegde said that the National Green Tribunal (NGT) directed the Centre to finalise the notification with regard to the report by December 31.

He said that under the then Siddaramaiah-led state government, the cabinet had rejected the report and asked the Centre to drop it. However, the BJP-led state government filed an affidavit in the NGT which prompted the Centre to implement the report.

Meteors to light up the sky on Dec 13, 14

ENS @ Udupi

AMATEUR astronomers, mark your calendar on December 13 and 14 for one of the greatest meteor showers, said Poornaprajna Amateur Astronomers' Club's coordinator Atul Bhat. The celestial incident will take place after 8.30 pm as the Geminids meteor shower will peak. "These showers occur during a specific time every year. Geminids is one of the two meteor showers that is caused by debris left behind by asteroids and not comets," he said.

The asteroid 3200 Phaethon orbits the Sun and is passing by Earth. It leaves behind debris which leads to the shower. The 3200 Phaethon is a Rock Comet, while all other comets are made of ice.

With a large amount of debris left behind, Geminids is one of the grandest meteor showers with an estimated 120 meteor sightings predicted per hour. That is one meteor every 30 seconds. To enjoy the meteor shower to the fullest, one should find a spot where there are no obstructions near the horizon and with the least light pollution.

'Droughts in India influenced by North Atlantic air currents'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

NEARLY half of the droughts occurring during Indian summer monsoon in the past century may have been driven by atmospheric disturbances from the North Atlantic region, according to a study by the Indian Institute of Science (IISc). The study, which has been published in Science, was carried out by researchers at the Centre for Atmospheric and Oceanic Sciences (CAOS), IISc.

More than a billion people depend on the annual Indian summer monsoon, which brings copious rain to large swathes of India between June and September. When it fails, and most of the country is plunged into drought. The usual suspect is El Niño, a recurring climate event during which abnormally warm equatorial Pacific waters pull moisture-laden clouds away from the Indian subcontinent. However, 10 out of 23 droughts that India faced in the past century have occurred during years when El Niño was absent.

The IISc study shows that these droughts were a consequence of a sudden and steep drop in rainfall in late August | EXPRESS

The IISc study shows that these droughts were a consequence of a sudden and steep drop in rainfall in late August. This drop was linked to an atmospheric disturbance in the mid-latitude region over North Atlantic Ocean, creating a pattern of atmospheric currents that swoop in over the subcontinent and "derail" the monsoon, an official statement from IISc said on Friday.

"As early as the 1980s, people looked at these droughts individually. They have not collated and pooled them together, and deduced that these droughts may all have a different type of evolution than El Niño droughts, as well as a common cause, which is this mid-latitude influence," says V Venugopal, associate professor at CAOS, and a senior author of the paper.

The research team looked closely at the daily rainfall during both El Niño and non-El Niño drought years, and noticed stark differences in their patterns between June and September. The droughts that happen during an El Niño year follow a standard pattern.

The rainfall deficit — departure from a long-term average — sets in early around mid-June and becomes progressively worse. By mid-August, the deficit spreads across the country and there is no going back from a drought.

Surprisingly, the droughts during the non-El Niño years, when analysed together, also seemed to follow a common pattern. First, there was a moderate slump in June. Then, during mid-July to mid-August — the peak of the season — monsoon showed signs of recovery and the rainfall increased. However, around the third week of August, there was a sudden steep decline in rainfall, which resulted in drought conditions.

We tried to see if we could trace it back to a forcing agent or system that influences the behaviour over India. We looked at the winds that were prevalent in non-El Niño drought years
Jai Sukhatme, associate professor at CAOS

"The question was: why does the break occur this late in August?" says Jai Sukhatme, associate professor at CAOS and another author. "We tried to see if we could trace it back to a forcing agent or system that influences the behaviour over India. We looked at the winds that were prevalent in non-El Niño drought years."

That was when the researchers noticed an unusual atmospheric disturbance in the mid-latitudes. It emerged from winds in the upper atmosphere interacting with a deep cyclonic circulation above abnormally cold North Atlantic waters. This resulted in a wave of air currents, called a Rossby wave, which curved down from the North Atlantic — squeezed in by the Tibetan plateau — and hit the Indian subcontinent around mid-August, suppressing rainfall and throwing off the monsoon that was trying to recover from the June slump.

The wave's usual course is to go from west to east, but not towards the equator, explains Sukhatme. "This inward curving was the peculiar thing that we noticed during these years."

"The history of liberty is the history of limitations on governmental powers, not the increase of it" — Woodrow Wilson

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.
— Ramnath Goenka

DISSING DEMOCRACY IS NOT THE WAY TO USHER IN CHANGE

If there is a common thread that runs through all the views by progressive commentators on the new farm laws, it is that the government could have brought in the far-reaching reforms in a better manner. They are agreed on the fact that the Centre ought to have held wide-ranging consultations with stakeholders, tried to build a consensus and then brought in the laws. This perhaps could have avoided the predicament the government finds itself in currently. So amidst this, the comments by NITI Aayog chief executive Amitabh Kant that too much democracy in India has hampered big-ticket reforms is unfortunate and ill-founded to say the least. By blaming the system, Kant is only brushing aside and glossing over his own government's shortcomings and failures. The overwhelming opinion over the deadlock on the protest by farmers is that too much hubris rather than too much democracy is to blame for the crisis facing the government. Irrespective of the massive mandate the Centre enjoys in Parliament and the BJP's seemingly unstoppable electoral juggernaut, accommodating contrarian views will only enhance the image of the government, not diminish it. Dismissing opposing views also has shades of authoritarianism and one-party rule of the past. So is Kant suggesting a return to those days? Surely, India deserves better and none, including those in the government, would like the negative aspects of the past to be relived.

When the country attained Independence, its founding fathers were firm that despite the many challenges of diversity, plurality and inequality, democracy was the best system for the country. And indeed it has been, however flawed it has worked in practice. It has served the country and its people well, with India becoming a democracy flag-bearer among developing countries. We should strengthen democracy and democratic institutions to usher in change, not weaken them by irresponsible actions and statements.

FOR ATHLETES, IT'S JAB RESPONSIBLY

The UK, Bahrain, Canada and Saudi Arabia have approved the use of the Pfizer-BioNTech Covid-19 vaccine under the Emergency Use Authorisation programme. It's likely that the US will follow these countries to approve the use of the Covid jab to inoculate its citizens in the fight against the coronavirus pandemic. Over the next few months, other vaccines too will hope to receive permission. As and when this permission is secured, some citizens—the elderly, people with comorbidities and healthcare workers—will get priority.

Another class of people, elite athletes, could also be in line to receive the jabs because of the extraordinary nature of their jobs. Considering it literally involves travelling thousands of kilometres every week and performing in front of crowds, multiple governments could make an exception to allow sportspersons to be inoculated against the disease. Even otherwise, considering that the Olympics is less than eight months away, they could make an argument to get into the priority list.

But athletes will have to show judgment and exercise caution before standing in line to get the jab. The World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) is closely monitoring the contents of the vaccines before greenlighting them for use among the community. Even if the WADA has made it clear that the chance to fall foul of the anti-doping regulations is remote, it is still in conversation with the manufacturers to ascertain the exact composition of the vaccines. Until such time that the agency greenlights it, athletes should resist the temptation. Even if they may want to inoculate themselves to protect the people around them, they mustn't do so when it comes with the risk of falling foul of doping violations.

The lives of athletes are not always peppered with fame and riches. Leading a clean dope-free life while competing at the highest level is daunting. A small slip is enough to destroy the beautiful universe one has built out of blood and sweat. Even if it's tempting to line up for the jab first, it's prudent for athletes to wait for WADA's nod.

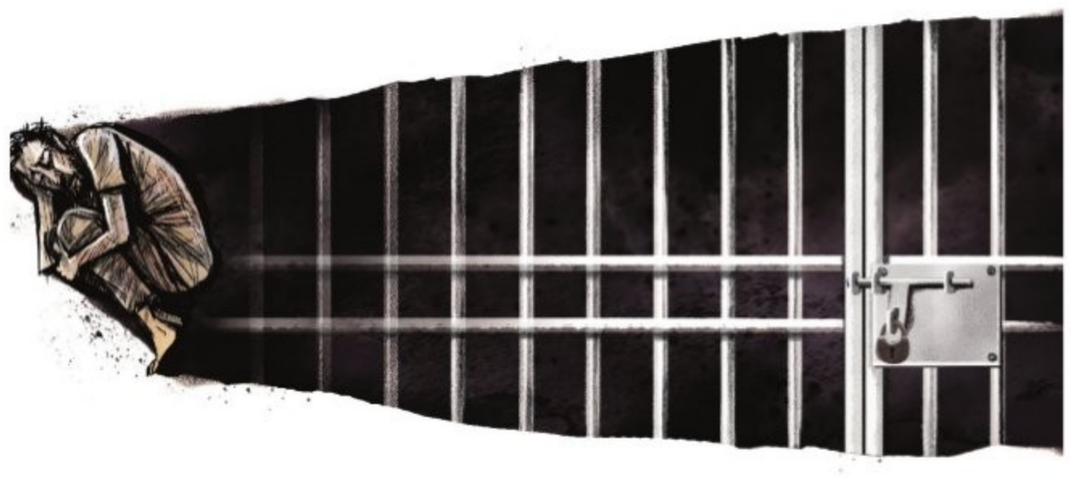
WHEN SAINTS ARE IN PRISON: CUSTODY AS A FORM OF TORTURE



AMIT BANDRE

KALEESWARAM RAJ
Lawyer, Supreme Court of India

It is amazing to watch the Supreme Court building that symbolises a wonderful architectural tradition. It is more so when one looks at the flock of birds that fly over the court's tomb, epitomising universal liberty, a theme that the Constitution tried to imbibe. It contains provisions for certain fundamental rights even for non-citizens. Article 21 promises right to life and personal liberty to 'any person'. The court has interpreted life to always mean dignified life.

Recently, when a Bench headed by Justice Rohinton Fali Nariman ordered the installation of CCTV cameras across police stations and other offices of the probe agencies, a kind of re- incarnation of an assertive court of the past was readily felt. Cameras can, to some extent, oversee abuses and gestures of torture. Sadly, the court had to reiterate its earlier order issued in 2018 and say that it is imperative to have CCTV cameras in all the functional parts of the police stations, from lock-ups to compounds, so as to have audio and video footages round the clock. The order reflects judicial vigilance against custodial torture. It is a dream that thrives for its own fulfilment.

But the nation needs much more. Custodial torture is an Indian reality. So is custody as a means of torture. The quality of democracy is tested in the prisons. Prisons are not merely centres of the criminal justice system. They reflect the dialectical relation between the state and the citizen.

Let us get away from the theoretical abstractions and see the stark realities. Last month, in a strange episode, a group of lawyers dispatched sippers and straws for the veteran activist Stan Swamy struggling in jail with Parkinson's ailment, incapable of holding a tumbler, at the age of 83. It is sad that the world's most powerful Supreme Court could not come to his rescue. It is an irony that the top court repeatedly failed to invoke its own principle of "compassion wherever possible and cruelty only where inevitable". This doctrine was laid down in serial killer Charles Sobraj's case (1978) and forgotten in Sudha Bharadwaj's one! This judicial contradiction could be an ethical shock to students of constitutional law.

The pandemic did not stop the government from criminalising dissent. It, on the other hand, accelerated the process and escalated the number of "prisoners of consciousness" in Indian jails—who already include Varavara Rao to Gautam Navlakha and many others. In Navlakha's case, allegedly, spectacles were denied to him. Journalist Vijayta Lalwani reports that basic amenities such as blankets and clothes are not provided to political prisoners in Mandoli jail in Delhi. In dictatorial democracies, remonstration is almost a political crime. For many activists, jail became the new normal, and bail, an uncertain exception.

The concern of this piece is also about the ordinary prisoners. How does the state deal with them during the pandemic? A report by Karan Tripathi talks about the overcrowding in the Tihar prison complex, which was aggravated after the Delhi High Court decided to recall a batch of parole-bail orders issued earlier, during the initial days of the pandemic. It was only after the death of a prisoner due to Covid-19 that 26 others were also found infected, according to his report. Tihar could only be a specimen. Prisons across the country could tell us a bigger story.

> The institutional apathy to the unjust invocation of restrictive laws is disturbing. We need a national action plan for scrapping such laws. ... But institutional introspection happens only when the people insist on it

The UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Michelle Bachelet recently said that "Covid-19 has begun to strike prisons, jails and immigration detention centres, as well as residential care homes and psychiatric hospitals" in several nations risking the lives of "extremely vulnerable populations". More importantly, she appealed: "Now, more than ever, governments should release every person detained without sufficient legal basis, including political prisoners and others detained simply for expressing critical or dissenting views."

The state's intolerance to dissent indicates its disrespect for human dignity. This easily gets extended to the prisons. The institutional apathy to the unjust invocation of restrictive laws is disturbing. We need a national action plan for scrapping draconian laws once and for all. Or else, the suppression of even peaceful protest by the machineries of the state would be perpetuated. But institutional introspection happens only when the people insist on it.

India developed its ideas of prison justice through judicial precedents, rather than legislation. The colonial statutes like the Prison Act (1894) and the Prisoners Act (1900) are clearly outdated. The prison manuals also are inadequate to meet the ends of justice. The courts could, however, travel a different path. The judgments in cases ranging from Hussainara Khatoon (1979) to Sunil Batra (1978) and Sheela Barse (1983) tried to rehumanise the prisons. This judicial shift occurred owing to the oppositional radicalism during and immediately after the Emergency (1975-77).

Political power has always a brutish vocabulary. In a democracy, citizens cannot be jailed as a matter of routine. Incarceration is not mere curtailment of freedom. It is a diminution of human dignity. As Jurist Ronald Dworkin put it, "Without dignity, our lives are only blinks of duration." Today, one is forced to think that individual dignity in India is in deep crisis. As Justice Krishna Iyer said, "brutal deterrence" in itself could be a "crime by punishment", which the state continues to commit.

HOW FARMERS VIEW THE EXISTING MANDI SYSTEM

STHANU R NAIR
Associate Professor of Economics, IIM Kozhikode

REDDY SAI SHIVA JAYANTH
Doctoral scholar in Economics, IIM Kozhikode

The protest by farmers against the agriculture laws passed by Parliament recently refuses to fade away. The multiple rounds of talks between the government and farmer groups have failed to produce the desired results. To understand the pulse of farmers on this issue, we engaged in an in-depth interaction with a cross-section of them located in Kurnool and Kadapa regions in Andhra and Ammur and Denkanikottai in TN on the implications of one of the laws, The Farmers' Produce Trade and Commerce (Promotion and Facilitation) Act, 2020. This Act aims to build an ecosystem that provides farmers the freedom to sell their produce, multiple trading options, remunerative prices, and an efficient and barrier-free agricultural market.

The Act proposes to fulfil these objectives in two ways: First, by enabling the farmers to sell their produce directly to any traders outside the state government-controlled markets. Second, by facilitating the setting up of electronic agricultural trading platforms. Presently, India's agricultural markets are regulated by the states under the Agricultural Produce Marketing Committee (APMC) Act. Under the APMC Act, the states can establish agricultural markets, popularly known as mandis. The sale of agricultural commodities can occur only in the mandis through auction. The sales process in mandis is regulated through commission agents (CAs) who mediate between the farmers and traders.

Over half of the farmers we interacted with (57%) are unhappy with the mandi system of sale. The reasons are exploitation by CAs, lower price realisation, lack of transparency in the trading process, collusion among traders, price cartelisation, delay in payments and low quality of mandi infrastructure. The delay in payments to the farmers ranges from three to fifty days. Instant payment is made only after deducting the interest on loans obtained by farmers from CAs. The payment delay forces the farmers to depend on borrowing from CAs, local money lenders and savings for their daily expenses. Therefore, the inclusion of the provision in the Act that the payments to the farmers have to be made by traders within a maximum of three working days assumes importance.

All the farmers said they have no bargaining power in fixing the prices. The traders and CAs dominate the pricing decision as they have monopolistic power and political backing. The Act addresses this issue in two ways. First, by allowing the farmers to sell outside the mandi system, the Act has attempted to reduce their dependence on the mandis. This is expected to enhance the bargaining power of farmers. Second, the Act has mandated the government to develop "a price information and market intelligence system for farmers' produce" and disseminate it to them. The government has already initiated a plan to set up a portal and disseminate the price information through various channels such as mobile applications, text messages and electronic displays in mandis. This initiative would help farmers make an informed decision while selling their produce. Presently, farmers access price information through a homogeneous and closed information network, namely CAs, mandi officials, friends and relatives. They believe in the price and market information provided by their peers. Another problem highlighted was the deduction of commission charges and market cess from the price discovered through auctions. Many farmers are clueless about the amount deducted from them; the estimates provided ranged from 5-20% of the auction price. Such deductions result in lower price realisation for farmers. The Act addresses this problem by prohibiting the collection of market fees or cess or levy from the farmers.

> Over half of the farmers we interacted with are unhappy with the mandi system of sale, one of the reasons being exploitation by commission agents who mediate between traders and farmers. ... Most farmers depend on the agents for credit, price information, transportation and storage. This suggests that farmers' ability to take advantage of the new trading opportunities depends on the institutional conditions that control farm production

The farmers who are dissatisfied with the current system felt that they should be provided with a choice to sell their produce outside the mandis. This justifies the government's decision to enact the Act. At the same time, the farmers were apprehensive about a new system of trade on various grounds. They include increased dependence on corporates, reduced government involvement in agriculture, land grabbing and exploitation by firms, and exit of corporates if the market conditions are unfavourable. These concerns need to be addressed by the government by including suitable safeguard provisions in the Act. Despite the outcry, the farmers interviewed did not raise any concerns regarding the minimum support price system's continuity.

Interestingly, the sections of farmers who are satisfied with the mandi system are also substantial (43%) due to trust built over time with CAs and traders, reasonable price discovery and trust in government control. This section of the farmers preferred to stay with the mandis due to difficulty in adjusting to a new system and fear of exploitation and low price realisation. Yet, they demanded an improvement in the efficiency of operation of mandis and prices offered there. These results suggest that farmers are somewhat divided on their choice of the mandi system of trade. So the government did the right thing by allowing the farmers to continue to sell their produce in mandis and providing alternative options to others.

Most farmers depend on CAs for credit, price information, transportation and storage. This suggests that farmers' ability to take advantage of the new trading opportunities depends on the institutional conditions that control farm production. Therefore, the government needs to put complementary support mechanisms to empower the farmers and reduce their dependence on CAs for agricultural support services. Then, the goal of freeing up the farmers from the clutches of mandis would become easier to achieve.

AS STIR INTENSIFIES, BJP PLANS 100 KISAN CHAUPALS

Mega outreach to highlight benefits of farm laws; ministers, MPs & MLAs to be roped in

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

MAKING it almost clear that the Centre is in no mood to blink on the agriculture laws in the face of the growing agitations, the BJP is unveiling a mega outreach programme with 100 'kisan chaupals' across the country, beginning on Saturday, to make farmers aware of the legislations.

The party will rope in Union ministers, MPs, MLAs and other leaders for the farmers' group meetings and pressers.

"The outreach is aimed to counter the misinformation campaign hatched by the Opposition against the farm laws. We will hold 100 kisan chaupals across the country. There will be press conferences in each district. The BJP leaders will sit with the farmers at mandis to discuss the details of the farm laws enacted by Parliament," BJP national general secretary Arun Singh told this newspaper.

On Thursday, the BJP had held a meeting to decide the next course of actions after the government called off the last scheduled meeting with the farmers.

"The outreachwill spell out the benefits of the farm laws directly to the farmers. Besides, all the measures taken for the empowerment of the farmers by Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led NDA government at the Centre will also be brought during discussions at the meetings and mass-contact programmes, which will go down to the level of mandals (blocks)," Singh added.

The BJP national general secretary also said that the PM-Kisan Nidhi Samman scheme, in which ₹3,000 every four months are directly credited into the bank accounts of the farmers, will figure in the mass outreach programme.

"The campaign will last for one week during which all parts of the country will be covered so that the genuine picture on the farm laws is presented before the people," the Rajya Sabha MP said.

The BJP's move to reach out to the farmers is coinciding with the flexing of muscles by the agitating farmers, who have threatened to block the Delhi-Rajasthan national highway on Saturday.

"The Modi government has done much more than any for the benefits of the farmers, which include the PM Fasal Bima Yojna in which the farmers now get compensation for even 33 per cent damage to the crops, which had earlier been 50 per cent," said Singh.

BKU faction moves SC against agri legislations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Bharatiya Kisan Union (BKU)-Bhanu on Friday filed an intervention application before the Supreme Court in the plea filed by DMK's MP Tiruchi Siva, challenging the Centre's three farm laws that have led to farmers protests across the country.

The application, filed through advocate AP Singh, states that the Acts were "passed hastily without adequate discussion", and despite multiple representations sent by various Kisan groups, the government is not ready to consider their problems.

"It has been averred that the acts are illegal and arbitrary, because, these acts would pave way for cartelisation and commercialisation of the agricultural produces and if allowed to stand, we are going to completely ruin our country as the corporates can, with one stroke, export our agriculture produce without any regulation, and may even result in famines," the petition reads.

The application further states that the laws are unconstitutional as the lead to farmers being at the mercy of corporate greed of multinational companies and will end up dismantling the Agriculture Produce Market Committee (APMC) system intended to ensure fair prices for farm products.

Protest hijacked by Ultra-Left, extremist elements: Intel inputs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

ULTRA-LEFT leaders and pro-Left Wing extremist elements have hijacked the farmers' agitation, government sources claimed on Friday, a claimed junked by the farmers as propaganda to defame them.

The government sources said there are "credible intelligence inputs" that extremist elements will spur incidents of violence, arson and damage to public property in the coming days. "Radical elements have advised the farmers to block the Delhi-Jaipur highway," said a source.

The claims came after posters demanding the release of writers, intellectuals and rationalists, mainly arrested in connection with the Elgar Parishad and Delhi riots cases, came up at the sites where the farmers are on sit-in protests to demand the scrapping of three recently passed farm laws.

According to reports, these posters first appeared on Thursday, the 15th day of the farmers' agitation. The Bharatiya Kisan Union (Ugrahan) was holding a demonstration at the Tikri border in the national capital where some posters calling for immediate release of activists Gautam Navlakha, Sudha Bhardwaj, Varvara Rao and Anand Teltumbde, and Delhi riots accused Umar Khalid, Sharjeel Imam and Khalid Saifi were put up by unknown persons.

All these accused have been booked under the stringent Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA).

The farmer associations rejected the government's claims and maintained that their protest was apolitical and peaceful. "No one can influence us. This is the government's propaganda to defame us. All the decisions are taken by the Samyukt Kisan Union," Raminder Singh Patiyal, president of one of the 32 agitating unions, Kirti Kisan Sangathan, said.

Leaders of BKU (Ekta Ugrahan) maintained there's nothing wrong in protesting in support of jailed activists.

DON'T TEST TOLERANCE OF CULTIVATORS: SHARAD PAWAR

MUMBAI: NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Friday urged the government not to test the tolerance of the cultivators. The protest at Delhi borders may spread elsewhere if no timely decision is taken by the Centre, he said. The farm bills were passed in a "hurried" manner in Parliament despite the opposition parties calling for a detailed discussion, he added."Today, farmers have made the extreme demand of withdrawing the laws first and said the issue can be discussed later. The Centre's position on the same, however, does not seem to be favourable. Hence, there are signs that the deadlock may continue for some more days," Pawar said. The veteran leader said that more people travelling in around 700 tractors joined the ongoing protest near Delhi border on Friday morning.

30,000 MORE PROTESTERS FROM PUNJAB HEAD TO DELHI

CHANDIGARH: With the deadlock between the protesting farmers and the Centre continuing, another group of nearly 30,000 protesters from different areas of Punjab started their journey towards the national capital on Friday morning.Packed in a large convoy of tractor-trailers, buses, cars and motorcycles loaded with eatables, the farmers, largely belonging to the Kisan Mazdoor Sangharsh Committee, started their journey from Amritsar city. En route farmers belonging to other districts are joining them. They will reach Kundli border on Saturday evening. "After a night halt in Shahbad (in Haryana), we will head straight to Delhi," Kisan Mazdoor Sangharsh Committee president Satnam Singh Pannu said.

'Centre surrendering to corporates, doing cosmetic changes'

NEW DELHI: The farm laws, which the Centre expedited to liberalise India's agrarian sector, were in reality an onslaught on democratic rights, said activists on Friday.

Authoritarian governments across the globe are using the pandemic as a tool to crack down on dissent, they said.

While the government is only aiming at cosmetic changes through amendments, the stakeholders said, the 'anti-farmer laws' would affect the entire agricultural fraternity.

"The Centre which expected the farm laws to be passed without any resistance has now been proven wrong. It actually surrenders self-reliance and food grains to MNCs. It means you go back to slavery and colonial servitude that we have escaped from," said political activist Aruna Roy.

Hannan Mollah, general secretary of the All India Kisan Sabha, said farmers were struggling for reforms in India for the past 15 years. "But the question is reforms in whose interest? We want that reforms should be made in the interest of the farmers. They are not getting remunerative price, they are committing suicide due to loan burdens...they are exploited. The WTO agreement imposes burden on them. What they want for survival should be taken into account. But Modi (government) is trying to further the rights of the corporates," Mollah said.

Lakshman Singh Sewewala of Punjab Khet Mazdoor Union said it was not a struggle of farmers alone. "Food security issue would be a worse crisis. This is why people are in solidarity on this issue," the farmer labour leader asserted.

The corporates are interfering in the process of policy-making and lawmaking, claimed social activist Medha Patkar. "Our politicians are more dependent on the corporate funding and that helps them to exploit votebanks through manipulation. It is the assault on agriculture which is being countered with a strong people's movement by farmers across the country."

Surinder S Jhodka, a professor of sociology at Jawaharlal Nehru University, lauded the way the movement was shaping up. "I am impressed by the kind of political and intellectual clarity they have, and the moral strength this movement has," said Jhodka. ENS

Media body seeks package from Centre

NEW DELHI: The Indian Newspaper Society (INS) has once again urged the Centre to announce a stimulus package for the newspaper industry. The newspapers' body has been seeking the package for the past few months to help the ailing industry tide over losses amid the Covid-19 pandemic.

"The entire industry is putting in its best efforts to bounce back and now looking forward to the government to provide the much-needed stimulus package by including removal of residual 5 per cent customs duty on newsprint, GNP & LWC paper, two years tax holiday, 50 per cent increase in the government advertisement rates, 200 per cent increase in the government spend on print media and immediate settlement of outstanding bills of advertisements released through BOC and state governments, as this is the need of the hour," said the INS.

Several publications have either shut down or suspended some editions indefinitely due to loss of revenue, the INS pointed out.

In the past eight months, the industry has already lost around ₹12,500 crore and annual loss is likely to be around ₹16,000 crore, according to the INS. ENS

ICMR's 3rd serosurvey soon even as cases fall

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

THE Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) is set to undertake the third national serosurvey in the coming few weeks to assess whether the rising number of quiet infections is leading to the country's shrinking Covid-19 pandemic.

Serosurveillance studies are meant to check for antibodies against a certain pathogen in random samples in people who did not have known infection.

According to ICMR officials, the agency is working on strategies for the survey, likely to be finalised soon, and the plan is to initiate it later this month or early January so the government has the results by January-end. "Primary goal is to determine the rise in seroprevalence since August in the same 70 districts and cities where the two surveillance studies have been carried out so far," an epidemiologist attached with the ICMR told this newspaper.

The second serosurvey to assess the real exposure of the Indian population to Covid-19 virus had shown that over 6.6% of the individuals, or 1 in 15 of those above 10 years, had been exposed to the virus by August.

The scientific exercise had also found that for every reported case, there were 26-32 actual cases of infection. In absolute numbers, this translated to roughly 9.1-11.2 crore of Covid-19 cases by the end of August when the official number was less than 35 lakhs.

In the first serosurvey in May-June, the overall seropositivity was found to be 0.73% and for every reported case, there were 82-130 cases of possible infections.

Officials say significant reduction in the reduction of daily cases seem to be a result of rising seroprevalence, despite predictions that the winters and rising pollution could cause a second peak in the country's Covid-19 graph. India registered 29,398 new cases and 414 deaths in the last day, which pushed the total tally and death toll to 9,796,769 and 142,186, respectively.

China should walk the talk, LAC faceoff result of its unilateral action: MEA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

CHINA should match its words with actions when it comes to maintaining peace at the Line of Actual Control, the Ministry of External Affairs said on Friday.

India has taken note of China's statement that it observed 'strictly the agreements between the two sides and is committed to resolving the border issue through dialogue and safeguarding peace and tranquility', the MEA said to a query on Beijing blaming Delhi for the LAC situation.

The situation in the last six months is a result of the actions of the Chinese side which sought to effect a unilateral change in status along the LAC in eastern Ladakh, it said. "These actions are in violation of the bilateral agreements and protocol on ensuring peace and tranquility along the LAC in the India-China border areas."

The core issue remains that both sides need to strictly follow the bilateral agreements and protocols in their entirety, including the 1993 and 1996 agreement on maintenance of peace and tranquility along the LAC in border areas, India said.

"We expect that the Chinese side will match its words with actions," said the MEA. The two sides have continued to maintain communication through diplomatic and military channels, it added.

"It is our expectation that discussions will help both sides to achieve an agreement on a mutually acceptable solution for ensuring complete disengagement in all friction points along the LAC in the Western sector and full restoration of peace and tranquility as early as possible."

On the Chinese embassy's tweet suggesting the joint release of commemorative stamps to mark the 70th anniversary of diplomatic relations being cancelled because of no feedback from India, the MEA said such a claim was factually incorrect. This was one of the activities agreed upon with the Chinese side last year, it added.

'Dissuasive deterrence must'

CDS Gen Bipin Rawat said like-minded partners need to build "dissuasive deterrence" against Beijing's bids at establishing its hegemony in Indo-Pacific region. "Our approach to security needs to shift from a unilateral mode to multilateral mode engagements with partner nations so as to fructify joint response in the future."

Domestic air travel demand sees continued recovery, rises 19% in November: ICRA

NEW DELHI: The Indian aviation industry has witnessed a continued recovery in domestic passenger traffic in November, with a sequential growth (over October) of 19% to 62 lakh passengers.

The capacity deployment in November 2020 at 59% (vis-a-vis November 2019) is a significant increase over the 46% capacity deployed in September and 52% capacity deployed in October. A report by consultancy body, ICRA, said yearly basis domestic passenger traffic has declined by 52%.

ICRA vice-president Kinjal Shah said: "The number of flights departing has also gradually increased from 416 on Day 1 to 2,065 on Day 198 (December 07). For November, the average daily departures were 1,806, significantly lower than the average daily departures of 3,080 in November 2019, though better than 1,574 in October 2020."

Shah said the average number of passengers per flight during November this year was 115, as against an average of 140 passengers per flight in November 2019. Thus, it is expected that the domestic aviation industry operated at a passenger load factor (PLF) of 74% in November 2020, against 89.6% in November 2019, that too on a low capacity. The PLF for November was higher than the 69.1% in October, despite the increase in capacity deployment by 11%.

Overall, from May 25, till November 30, domestic passenger traffic has been pegged at 22.7 million."

The aviation ministry permitted increasing the capacity to 45%, with effect from June 27, 2020; post the initial recommencement of operations of the scheduled domestic flights, with effect from May 25, 2020, to a limited extent i.e. maximum 1/3rd of their respective approved capacity of the Summer Schedule 2020. ENS

Northeast stands united against CAA, say outfit leaders on anniversary

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR
@Guwahati

ON the first anniversary of passing of the Citizenship (Amendment) Act (CAA) on Friday, the North East Students' Organisation (NESO) registered its protest against the controversial law by hoisting black flags and displaying black banners in towns and cities all over the region.

The NESO, which is the apex students' body of the Northeast, said December 11, 2019, was still fresh in the memories of the people of the region as it was on this day that the Citizenship (Amendment) Bill (CAB) had become a law (CAA).

"Through the observation of the day as black day, we want to give a message to the Government of India that we still stand united against this law. We also sought to remind our people and future generations of the political injustice that Government of India had done to the indigenous people of Northeast," NESO chairman Samuel Jyrwa told this newspaper. The NESO appealed to people to "keep fighting for the just cause of our God-given right".

In Assam, black flags were hoisted and black banners displayed by the members of the All Assam Students' Union (AASU). Samujjal Bhattacharya, advisor to the AASU, said the students would continue with the protest movement till CAA was repealed.

"The Central government had passed the CAB in Parliament in total disregard of the sentiments of people in the Northeast. CAA violates the Assam Accord. It is anti-indigenous, anti-Northeast, communal and unconstitutional. We will never accept this and we will keep fighting to ensure that this law is scrapped," Bhattacharya said.

During the height of anti-CAA protests in Northeast last year, five people, including teenagers, had lost their lives in Assam.

Jagdeep Dhankar takes serious view of chief minister calling BJP leaders as outsiders, asks her not to play with fire

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

AS the mercury soared in West Bengal politics with the attack on J P Nadda's convoy, Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar on Friday took umbrage to Chief Minister and Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee's 'outsider' jibe at the BJP's national president and other central leaders and cautioned her against "playing with fire".

"It's dangerous that she is using the word outsider. India is one nation and we all are Indians. We believe in one Constitution. The chief minister is not above the Constitution. Please don't indulge in 'who is an outsider, who is an insider'. Such a comment from her was unwarranted, shameful and painful. I would like to tell her – 'madam chief minister, please don't play with the fire','' said Dhankhar.

Asking Mamata to take back her words, and also apologise for the attack on Nadda's convoy on Thursday, the governor said, "I have taken a very serious note of the statement made by her. How can a responsible chief minister, believing in the rule of law, believing in the Constitution, and believing in rich Bengali culture, talk the way she did? Madam CM, please maintain some dignity and take back your words."

Dhankhar, who sent a report to the Centre over the "deteriorating law and order in Bengal", met the chief secretary and director general of police at Raj Bhavan and sought an explanation over the attack on Nadda's convoy. After the meeting, Dhankhar expressed his discontent. "CS @MamataOfficial & DGP @WBPolice called on me today at 6 PM. Unfortunately neither came with any update on pending issues or regarding attack on convoy of BJP president JP Nadda. Their continued non responsive stance signals failure of constitutional machinery in the State," he tweeted.

Shah visit likely on Dec 19-20

Union Home Minister Amit Shah, who sought a report from the Bengal government on the attack on Nadda's convoy, is scheduled to visit the state for two days on December 19-20, a trip that is likely to further raise the heat ahead of the assembly elections next year.

Other than holding meetings with party functionaries, Shah is likely to visit at least one district in south Bengal that is a TMC citadel and an area that has high concentration of Bangladeshi refugees. "We are yet to finalise his schedule. It will be decided within a day or two,'' said a BJP source.

Party functionaries said Shah might visit a Matua dominated region because there is growing discontent among the refugee electorate over non-implementation of the CAA despite the party's promise before the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. The BJP bagged two Lok Sabha seats, Bongaon and Ranaghat, banking on the support extended by the Matua voters, who had shifted their political allegiance from the TMC.

Ally exits Raj govt as Cong, BJP gang up in local poll to cut it out of power

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

DAYS after suffering defeat in the Rajasthan local body elections, the Tribal Party of India (BTP) withdrew support to the Congress-led government in the state on Friday, alleging that the latter "cheated" it. The BTP took the decision after arch rivals Congress and BJP joined hands at two places to thwart BTP and Rashtriya Loktantrik Party (RLP) candidates from getting elected as zila pramukhs and panchayat samiti pradhans.

The BTP, a Congress ally which supported Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot during the revolt in his party earlier this year, is upset that the ruling party candidates chose BJP over it in the tribal Dungarpur district, where the small outfit is trying to expand its influence. Similarly, the opposition BJP did not help its ally, Nagaur MP Hanuman Beniwal's RLP, bag a village head's post in Nagaur district. Instead, its candidates went for an independent nominee, supported also by the Congress.

The BTP has two MLAs in Rajasthan who were supporting Congress. BJP's Surya Ahari, who contested the election as an independent candidate for the post of district head, won the district chief's post by defeating BTP-backed Parvati by one vote with the support of the Congress. In fact, out of the 27 seats of zilla parishad, 13 independents supported by the BTP had won, while Congress won six and BJP eight. Surya Ahari got a total of 14 votes — eight from BJP and 6 from Congress. BTP-backed candidate Parvati got only 13 votes.

This is the first time in the state politics that the BJP and the Congress have come together to defeat a thrid party. Congress did not field a candidate in the election. At the same time, BJP's Surya Ahari filed nomination as an independent.

Founder member of the BTP, Chotubhai Vasava, tweeted, "BJP and Congress are one and the same thing. BTP will withdraw its support to the Rajasthan government."

For majority, the Rajasthan government needs 101 MLAs and Gehlot has the support of 6 MLAs, including those from the BSP and independents. Hence, the exit of BTP may not pose any immediate threat to the state government.

Nadda had bullet-proof car: Chief Secy

THE top bureaucrat added the state government is addressing the issue with "utmost seriousness" and listed the security arrangements made for Nadda's visit. "The West Bengal police had provided a bullet proof car and a pilot to Shri J P Nadda, which was in addition to the escort he is entitled as a Z-category protectee. The DIG (Police) of the range was there to personally supervise arrangements. While 4 additional SPs, 8 DySPs, 14 Inspectors, 70 SIs/ASIs, 40 RAF personnel, 259 constables and 350 numbers of auxillary forces were deployed on the route and at the venue at Diamond Harbour,'' the letter said.

Corroborating Mamata's allegation of too many vehicles in the convoy, Bandopadhyay, said, "The tagging of many vehicles to the protectee convoys made the situation unwieldy, because typically, security authorities are to handle protectee convoy of a few vehicles only, and not with/in the presence of so many other vehicles which got tagged to the convoy travelling together.''

He added three FIRs have been registered in connection with Thursday's violence.

Mother, daughter get married on the same day at the same venue

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN an unusual incident, a 53-year-old woman and her 27-year-old daughter exchanged their respective wedding vows with their partners at the same venue in Gorakhpur on Thursday.

Both the woman and her daughter got married at the same time, at the same mass marriage ceremony held under the Mukhyamantri Samuhik Vivah Yojna at Piprauli block on Thursday.

The woman, a widow, married her late husband's younger brother and was among 63 couples who tied the nuptial knot at the mass marriage event. BDO Dr CS Kushwaha along with district social welfare department's officials were present on the occasion.

Beli Devi was married to Harihar. She had three daughters and two sons in that marriage. She lost Harihar 25 years ago. Now, as all her children, except the youngest daughter Indu, are married and settled, Beli Devi decided to spend the rest of her life with her brother-in-law Jagdish, 55, who is younger to her late husband. Indu, 27, also got married at the same venue.

"Jagdish, a farmer, is still unmarried. Hence, with the marriage of my youngest daughter, I decided to marry my 'Devar' (husband's younger brother). All my children are happy," Beli Devi said.

Indu was married to 29-year-old Rahul. "None of my siblings have any problem with our mother's wedding," she said.

US SEES 3,300 COVID DEATHS IN 24 HRS, BEATS 9/11 COUNT

1 million new cases in five days, hospitalisations hit new high as US readies for vaccine rollout

WASHINGTON

JUST when the US appears on the verge of rolling out a Covid-19 vaccine, the numbers have become gloomier than ever: Over 3,300 American deaths in a single day on Thursday, according to The Washington Post. That's more than the number of people killed on D-Day or 9/11. Also, over one million new cases have been reported over the past five days. The number of people hospitalised with the infection has soared to 1,06,000.

The crisis across the country is pushing medical centers to the breaking point and leaving staff members and public health officials burned out and plagued by tears and nightmares.

All told, the crisis has left close to three lakh people dead in the US, with more than 1.5 crore confirmed infections.

Thursday's toll eclipsed American deaths on the opening day of the Normandy invasion during World War II: 2,500, out of some 4,400 Allied dead. And it topped the toll on Sept. 11, 2001: 2,977.

New cases per day are running at all-time highs of over 2,09,000 on average. And the number of people in the hospital with Covid-19 is setting records nearly every day.

Hospitals under strain

In South Dakota, Dr Clay Smith has treated hundreds of Covid-19 patients while working at Monument Health Spearfish Hospital and at Sheridan Memorial Hospital in neighboring Wyoming.

He said patients are becoming stranded in the emergency room for hours while they await beds on the main floor or transfers to larger hospitals. And those transfers are becoming more challenging, with some patients sent as far away as Denver,644 kilometersfrom the two hospitals.

"That is a huge burden for families and EMS systems as well when you take an ambulance and send it 400 miles one way, that ambulance is out of the community for essentially a whole day," he said.

New Orleans' health director, Dr Jennifer Avegno, described a recent visit to a hospital where she watched doctors, and nurses make a long, futile attempt to save a dying patient. Some broke down in tears afterward, she said. "These are seasoned emergency personnel," she said. "We do not cry very often — and especially not a number of us all at once."

GSK-Sanofi shot won't be ready till late 2021

They said they now expect the vaccine to be available in the fourth quarter of 2021

EU chief Ursula von der Leyen on Friday told the bloc's leaders there were "low expectations" a post-Brexit trade deal could be struck with Britain, EU sources said, two days ahead of a crunch decision on talks.

An EU official said leaders heard that the "probability of a no deal is higher than of a deal" in a brief discussion of Brexit at a marathon Brussels summit, as time ticks down to a Sunday deadline to make a call on prolonging negotiations or giving up. The pessimistic tone came after British Prime Minister Boris Johnson warned Thursday there was a "strong possibility" of no deal, and instructed his government to prepare for Britain to crash out of the European Union's single market at the end of this year.

Negotiators from the EU and Britain are carrying on talks in Brussels Friday to see if they can fathom a route to an accord by the weekend cut-off point set by von der Leyen and Johnson at a combative dinner meeting this week. An EU official said it would become clear soon if there was any point to prolonging the discussions, but refused to rule out a last-minute "turnaround" in the talks to secure a deal despite the gathering gloom.

The EU on Thursday published its own contingency plans to keep basic air and road travel running and fishing rights open in the event of no deal.

Britain left the EU on January 31 after five decades of integration but a standstill transition period ends on the night of December 31. AFP

Morocco fourth Arab nation to recognise Israel, says Trump

WASHINGTON

MOROCCO has become the fourth Arab nation this year to recognise Israel, US President Donald Trump announced Thursday, as he in turn fulfilled a decades-old goal of Morocco by backing its sovereignty in disputed Western Sahara.

With barely a month left in his presidency, Trump tweeted: "Israel and the Kingdom of Morocco have agreed to full diplomatic relations – a massive breakthrough for peace in the Middle East!" Agencies

Govt capex set to rise sharply next fiscal

The Centre has decided to pull out all stops and hike capital spending by 25-30% in the upcoming Union Budget

JAYANTA ROY CHOWDHURY
@ New Delhi

THE Government is likely to ramp up its capital expenditure in the forthcoming budget to a record of ₹5.5-6 lakh crore in a bid to spur economic growth and create jobs.

After being criticised by economists for not having doled out enough direct support in the form of income support and expanded infrastructure spending, the Government has decided to pull out stops and increase capital expenditure by 25–30 per cent over this year's spend. In the 2020-21 budget, the Government had come out with a capital expenditure outlay of ₹4.12 lakh crore,—18.1 per cent over the revised estimates of the previous financial year. On top of this, the Centre had announced capital spending of around ₹37,000 crore as part of the Atmanirbhar Bharat packages.

"We need to spend in the forthcoming year to spur growth. We are conscious that further delays could impact the rate of economic recovery and future growth," said a top finance ministry official, "We are in the process of finalising expenditure and can expect a record jump in capex spending". Departments whose capital spending will see large jumps will include roads and highways, urban and rural development, railways, energy, ports, civil aviation, and defence.

> We need to spend in the forthcoming year to spur growth. We are conscious that further delays could impact the rate of economic recovery and future growth
>
> Senior official, Ministry of Finance

Understandably private investment has been scarce this fiscal and is not expected to pick up substantially till factories start producing at full capacity. India's investment reflected by gross fixed capital formation contracted by 7.3 per cent in the second quarter of this year after a massive plunge of 47 per cent in Q1.

The finance ministry believes its capital expenditure will have a multiplier effect of at least 2 on GDP. That is, it would add ₹2 for every rupee spent—a far larger effect than that derived from measures such as tax cuts or direct benefit transfers.

"We have an infrastructure pipeline of ₹111 lakh crore. Which means we need to spend about ₹20 lakh crore a year or so, with private sector investors still in limbo, the Government will have to, for the next two years, step up its capex," an officials noted.

RULE TWEAK

PO savings accounts now need minimum balance of ₹500

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IF you have a Post Office savings account, you will now have to maintain a minimum balance of ₹500 from December 11, failing which the post office will charge a penalty of ₹100 plus GST.

According to a notification by India Post, in case the account balance is not raised to ₹500 at the end of financial year, a fee of ₹100 will be deducted as Account Maintenance Fee. If the account balance becomes Nil, the account shall stand automatically closed, the notification added.

These new rules are effective from December 11. Post office savings accounts currently offer an interest rate of four per cent per annum on both individual and joint accounts.

The notification also said that in case there has been no transaction activity in an account for three consecutive financial years, then the account shall be treated as silent or dormant. For such accounts, fresh KYC documents and passbook will need to be submitted along with an application in case the user wants to revive it. Currently, all one requires to open a post office account is ₹500. The minimum withdrawal amount is ₹50, while there is no maximum deposit limit.

Officials added that this measure will help in cleaning up many dormant accounts which were not being used and the collection of the penalties will help in the maintenance of India Post. According to current rules, only one post office savings account can be opened by an individual. India Post also offers several small savings schemes.

Rising crude presents inflation-deficit trade-off

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S fiscal health has once again become entwined with global oil markets. This time, however, it is the government's reliance on fuel taxes, as opposed to the burden of subsidies, that is throwing up questions for policy makers.

"Dependency on petroleum taxes rose dramatically over the past nine months following the collapse of oil prices in the wake of the Covid-19 outbreak and the resulting depressed consumption, as the government chose not to let domestic retail prices correct in line with global benchmarks," pointed out Rahul Bajoria, Chief India Economist at Barclays. While current international oil prices are unlikely to pose a major challenge to India's macro stability, the country would have to choose between fiscal stability and containing inflation as oil prices climb, he added.

In the past two weeks, diesel prices have risen ₹2.6 per litre and petrol ₹1.6 per litre. The increase is partly a reflection of higher crude oil prices, which have risen from $37.46 per barrel to $50.40 per barrel since the beginning of November. Going forward, Brent crude oil prices are estimated to rise to an average of $53 per barrel next year.

According to Barclay's estimates, a $10 per barrel change (increase) in global crude oil prices will imply a ₹5.8/litre rise in retail fuel prices, which would add 34 basis points to headline inflation over three-six months, assuming there is no change to petroleum taxes. A ₹5.8 per litre cut in petrol and diesel taxes to offset rising crude oil prices, Barclays believes, would result in a loss of revenue of ₹87,200 crore (around 0.39 per cent of GDP), assuming normal fuel consumption levels.

"Cutting excise duty would only delay inflation thanks to the wider fiscal deficit. That may buy some time for the recovery, however," Bajoria pointed out. The trade-off between fiscal math and higher inflation, however, is only a temporary choice.

Balancing act needed as crude prices rise

According to Barclays analysts, the Centre may allow the Reserve Bank of India some leeway with regards to inflation. Such a measure would allow the central bank to concentrate more on spurring economic growth in the wake of the destruction left behind by the ongoing coronavirus pandemic. In its latest policy statement, the Reserve Bank of India has noted that "cost-push pressures continue to impinge on core inflation, which has remained sticky and could firm up as economic activity normalises and demand picks up". The central bank has consequently raised its inflation forecast at 6.8 per cent in Q3, and 5.8 per cent in Q4.

Nov car sales rise, semi-conductor shortage hits firms

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

PASSENGER vehicle sales (factory dispatches) grew by 4.65 per cent in November year-on-year, coming in at 264,898 units against 253,139 units sold in the same month last year, according to the latest data from the Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM).

"While the festive season brought back some fervour in specific segments, the overall economic scenario would determine the industry's performance going forward," said Rajesh Menon, Director General, SIAM.

Two-wheeler sales stood at 1,600,379 units in November, recording a 13.43 per cent growth year-on-year. Retail sales of two-wheelers, however, were much lower than factory dispatches during the month.

Going ahead, however, the shortage of semi-conductors is likely to impact supply chains and, subsequently, the production capacity of automakers. On Tuesday, leading component maker Bosch had stated that imports of micro-processors (semi-conductors) have been hit following a global surge in demand from the consumer electronics industry. On Wednesday, Mahindra & Mahindra added that this shortage is estimated to result in a reduction in production and sales.

> The electronic content in vehicles has been progressively increasing. Incidents such as these only precipitate the need for localisation
>
> Deepak Jain, president, ACMA

Deepak Jain, President of ACMA, said that the industry is keenly watching the situation. According to experts, it is still not clear as to what extent, and for how long, the shortage of semiconductors will impact vehicle production in India.

"Any stoppage of vehicle lines have a resonating effect on the entire auto component manufacturing ecosystem. We are continuing to engage with the OEMs and monitoring the situation," said Jain, adding that the electronic content in vehicles has been progressively increasing. "Incidents such as these only precipitate the need for localisation and self-reliance in auto electronics in the country," he pointed out.

TVS group firms see share prices spike as family agrees on restructuring

BINITA JAISWAL @ Chennai

A day after the TVS Group decided to restructure its family holdings to synchronise the management of its various businesses, the share prices of most TVS group firms rose on Friday, from between 3.7 per cent to 13.72 per cent.

Shares of companies such as TVS Srichakra, TVS Electronics, and Sundaram Clayton were up by over 10 per cent.

The century-old TVS group is currently worth around $8.5 billion and operates business in a wide range of sectors, from automobiles and auto components to finance and electronics.

On Thursday, the Group had announced that the restructuring will see each family group get complete ownership of the businesses they manage, and will also scrap the holding company. There won't be any cross holdings, the group said. The move is being seen as a wise measure by management experts as an effective way to avoid possible internal feuds.

The group also said that pursuant to the family arrangement, the existing management of the group firms will continue.

For example, Venu Srinivasan and his family will manage companies such as TVS Motor and Sundaram Clayton, while Suresh Krishna and his family will manage Sundaram Fasteners. Besides, the TVS brand will be allotted to each family group for their use in their lines of business on a perpetual, royalty-free basis. Nominated family members will now decide on implementation.

"The restructuring is an attempt to amicably resolve things and give space to each of the stakeholders to work towards growth without any interference, which is very crucial now as younger generation has begun playing an important role in many firms," said an industry expert.

Agreement irons out crossholdings

- Each family group to get complete ownership of firms they manage
- The holding company will be scrapped under the arrangement
- The restructuring will result in no cross-holdings across companies

OLECTRA EXPANDS ITS FOOTPRINT, DEPLOYS E-BUSES IN UTTARAKHAND

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

OLECTRA Greentech, a MEIL Group company, has increased expanded its presence in the electric vehicle space by deploying e-buses in the state of Uttarakhand for passenger commutes.

According to a statement from the company, Trivendra Singh Rawat, Chief Minister of Uttarakhand, flagged off these electric buses on Friday. "We are planning to start these 30 eco-friendly electric buses in this financial year. These buses will run in hill terrains of Dehradun, Mussoorie, Rishikesh and Haridwar," the Chief Minister of the state noted.

Going ahead, the company said that Gujarat Chief Minister Vijay Rupani will flag-off an Olectra Electric bus trial run in Surat on 12th December. The company will supply 9-Meter Air-Conditioned 150 buses to Surat Municipal Corporation (SMC) in phased manner. Olectra will be supplying 25 buses to Silvasa and the trial run of these buses is scheduled for next week.

New buses for Surat Municipal Corporation

Gujarat Chief Minister Vijay Rupani will flag-off an Olectra Electric bus trial run in Surat tomorrow. The company will supply 9-Meter Air-Conditioned 150 buses to Surat Municipal Corporation (SMC).

Olectra also said it has an order book for 775 buses under FAME-II scheme from various states. All these buses are to be supplied to the buyers in a phased manner.

The EV maker has delivered over 280 buses to various states as of now. Olectra has become a major player in the sector and grabbed about 20 per cent of the sanctioned 5,595 buses under the FAME-II scheme.

The bus deployed in Uttarakhand is a 9-Meter Air-Conditioned model. The lithium-ion (Li-ion) battery installed in the bus enables it to travel up to 180 kilometer on a single charge.

Tech-driven single window clearances by April: DPIIT

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government plans to introduce a technology-driven single window clearance system for investors by mid-April which will do away with the need to have multiple applications across different portals, said Guruprasad Mohapatra, Secretary of Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) on Friday. The government, he added, is also working on various other measures to reduce the compliance burden and notify the recently announced PLI scheme by April next year.

"Apart from giving an investor all the information about land, procedures, requirements, this single portal will be linked to an unified single fleet of information and approving ministries will draw from that. So, he (an investor) doesn't have to do multiple applications," said Mohapatra at FICCI's annual convention.

On the need to ease the compliance burden, he said it was the government's highest priority to simplify the procedures that business must follow in certain sectors. "There could be big changes coming in the process of renewals, registration, inspection etc, hopefully by March," he added.

All ministries dealing with the new PLI scheme would notify the scheme, announce the new companies selected under the PLI scheme, and the process of inviting EoIs would all be completed by April, according to the DPIIT. The Cabinet has also approved the PLI scheme for ten new sectors: pharmaceuticals, textile, automobiles and auto parts, white goods, telecom, solar modules and specialty steel.

Bounce to add 4,000 e-scooters by Feb

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ELECTRIC scooter-sharing start-up Bounce will add 4,000 more e-scooters to its fleet by February 2021 and transition to a 100% EV fleet by the end of the next year, the company said on Friday. The Bengaluru-based firm pointed out that 50 per cent of its fleet is currently electric. This fleet will also include the company's own bikes designed in-house.

With the pandemic severely impacting the mobility sector, Bounce said that it has leveraged this period to accelerate its EV adoption, with a focus on streamlining the supply chain and operations. Bounce also aims to make its rides carbon neutral by 2022.

"We always believed that widespread adoption of EVs will happen only by fleet operators as the backend infrastructure can be built before fleet deployment, thus solving the catch-22 situation. When COVID impacted business, we took advantage to accelerate our EV adoption strategy. We have built strategic partnerships with several OEMs in the electric and battery space to achieve this green vision. We will continue to lead the micro-mobility sector by providing clean, affordable and convenient options," said Vivekananda Hallekere, CEO, Bounce.

VALUATION TUSSLE

Tata bid to buy CCD vending outlets hits block

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

TATA Consumer Products' (TCPL) ₹1,000 crore offer to buy Coffee Day Enterprises' (CDEL) coffee vending machines has hit another roadblock—the valuation of the business hasn't gone down well with the promoters, according to sources privy to the development. Tata group, they say, has offered to buy the vending machines for only half of what CDEL is seeking. The Tatas are also eyeing a stake in the Coffee Day's retail outlets in order to pump up its tea and coffee brands and strengthen Tata Starbucks.

Sources said that although the Tatas' offer was also for buying the plantation, retail, and vending machines businesses, there was also a lot of ambiguity over the valuation of each one. CDEL has been able to narrow its losses as well as pare debt down to ₹3, 200 crore with the sale of Global Tech Park to Blackstone.

"Another concern is that the Coffee Day's retail business was already hit hard prior to Covid and the subsequent lockdowns have only hurt them and will bring down the valuation. Tata's offer to buy their vending machines business for ₹1,000 crore is currently on hold although the talks are going on and this may close in next few weeks," a source said.

CDEL on Friday told the stock exchanges that its revenue for Q2FY21 was down by 67% whereas EBITDA was down by 54% YoY. However, net losses have come down by 48%to ₹92 crore ₹230 crore during the same quarter a year ago. For Q2, FY21 (July-September), The company had told the stock exchanges that now, nearly 80% of its outlets and 50% of the vending machines are functional.

CDEL also said there has been a change in the shareholding of the company in two of its subsidiaries and one step-down subsidiary as of September 30, 2020 due to invocation of shares by thelenders of the subsidiaries. It added that the changes are temporary.

Amazon Pay India loss widens to ₹1,868.5 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Amazon Pay (India) saw its losses widen to ₹1,868.5 crore in the financial year 2020 from ₹1,160.8 crore in the fiscal ended March 2019, as per regulatory documents, PTI reported on Friday.

The company, which competes with players like Paytm, Flipkart's PhonePe and Google Pay, saw its parent pumping in over ₹2,700 crore investment in the financial year 2020. Amazon Pay's total revenue for fiscal 2020 grew over 64 per cent to ₹1,370 crore over ₹834.5 crore in fiscal 2019, according to Registrar of Companies filing - shared by market intelligence firm Tofler. The filing pointed out that Amazon Pay India has received ₹2,705 crore in the financial year 2020 from Amazon Corporate Holdings Private Limited and Amazon.com.incs Limited. Amazon Pay India allotted shares to these entities worth ₹450 crore in June, ₹900 crore in October and ₹1,355 crore in December 2019.

Paes eyeing record eighth straight Olympics in Tokyo

Indian tennis icon Leander Paes on Friday said he wants to make a record eighth straight Olympic appearance and is preparing hard to participate in Tokyo Games. Last year, he had announced his 'One Last Roar' tagline, calling 2020 to be his last season as a professional player, culminating with the Tokyo Games.

OPENING REMAINS A GAMBIT

India's questions on top two remain unanswered after 20-wicket Day 1 of pink-ball warm-up

ATREYO MUKHOPADHYAY
@Chennai

INJURIES and concerns over form have left Australia smarting over the selection of openers ahead of the Test series. After the opening day of the second practice match in Sydney, Jasprit Bumrah's maiden first-class fifty and bragging rights for bowling out the home team for 108 notwithstanding, the Indians find themselves in a similar situation. Like Australia, it concerns the opening combination.

First-choice according to some due to his experience of scoring runs in Australia, Mayank Agarwal played four balls before being surprised by the bounce on the fifth. He remains a favourite for one of the spots, but unless he gets some runs in the second innings, Agarwal will head for the first Test starting on December 17 without too many under his belt. Before making two on Friday, his returns in the first two ODIs were 22 and 28. He was not picked for the last ODI and three T20Is.

Forty and 43 are substantial figures considering runs made by batsmen in Sydney on Friday. Yet, it cannot be said with conviction that Prithvi Shaw and Shubman Gill made a strong case for themselves during their brisk partnership. Shaw had made 0 and 19 in the first tour match, Gill 0 and 29. The second innings against Australia A could be make or break for these two.

"I would pick Mayank because he has made runs in Australia in the past and also got starts in the two ODIs he played on this tour. Not to forget that he has a Test double century against South Africa. He was in good nick in IPL as well. But there is room for debate for the second opener," former India opener Wasim Jaffer told this daily from Mumbai.

"Without saying that he doesn't have the ability, I would keep Gill out of the race at the moment. That's because I prefer somebody who has been tested. It's a tough call. Prithvi made 40-odd in the first innings at a good pace and has got a feel of the conditions in Australia. If one of these two has to be picked, I would go for Prithvi."

The former batsman with the experience 31 Tests feels this contest should not be restricted to these three. According to him, KL Rahul should also be considered as a contender, although he is not in the XI in the ongoing match. Rahul, who hasn't played Test cricket in over a year, however is part of the squad. "I'm sure Rahul wants to better his reputation in the longest format. He is an in-form batsman who made runs in Test cricket in the past. Counting Mayank, Nos 1, 3, 4, 5 in the batting line-up are sealed. There are question marks over 2 and 6. Considering that Hanuma Vihari has not had a great run so far, Rahul is a contender for both spots," noted Jaffer.

If the first day of the day-night practice match is an indication — 20 wickets in 82 overs and quicker bowlers taking 19 of those — conditions will remain testing for openers. Unless someone gets a big one, the Indian think tank will be left facing an uneasy toss-up when they move to Adelaide.

Brief scores: Indians 194 (Bumrah 55 n.o, Gill 43, Shaw 40) vs Australia A 108 (Saini 3/19, Shami 3/29).

GREEN BLOW ADDS TO AUSSIE CONCERNS

Australia's Test hopeful and all-rounder Cameron Green suffered a concussion while bowling, after a shot from Jasprit Bumrah struck him on the head on Friday.

Bowling his second spell of the day, the 21-year-old was unable to react in time when Bumrah's full-blooded drive slipped through his palms and hit him on the right side of his head. He immediately went down. After being examined for a couple of minutes by the medical team, Green walked off the field for further assessment. Batsman Patrick Rowe was named his concussion substitute. "Cameron sustained a mild concussion while bowling. This is Cameron's first concussion. He has returned to the team hotel and will not play the remaining two days of the tour match," said doctor Pip Inge.

OPENING WOES

Will Pucovski: Suffered a concussion after being struck on the helmet by Kartik Tyagi in the first warm-up game. Not ruled out of first Test yet.

David Warner: Ruled out of first Test due to a groin injury suffered during the second ODI.

Joe Burns: Part of the Test squad, who made 4 & 0 in the first practice match & 0 in the 1st innings on Friday.

Marcus Harris: Possible replacement if Pucovski is ruled out. Made 35, 25* and 26 in practice games.

DERBY DAY

Manchester and Madrid will come to a standstill as the biggest clubs of the two cities go head to head in matches that have significant context. Here's a look at the two derbies lined up tonight...

MAN UNITED VS MAN CITY

For United, this couldn't have come at a worse time. Out of the Champions League in midweek, they would have preferred a softer landing. Have won only one home PL game all season. It could be curtains for Ole Gunnar Soljskaer if they fall to their city rivals. This is a big encounter for Pep Guardiola too, whose fluctuating league fortunes has been a cause for concern. Seventh after 10 games, this is one of the Spaniard's worst beginnings to a league campaign.

REAL MADRID VS ATLETICO MADRID

Zinedine Zidane has emerged unscathed, winning two of what was touted to be three games to save Real's season. They have beaten Sevilla and Monchengladbach in CL. If they beat their crosstown rivals, it will be a big boost in the domestic league. It's easier said than done. Atletico, top of the La Liga table with 26 points from 10 games, have conceded only two goals all season. And Diego Simeone likes nothing more than bloodying the noses of their city rivals.

HYDERABAD HOLD ATKMB TO 1-1 DRAW

MARGAO: Hyderabad FC rode on Joao Victor's second-half penalty to hold ATK Mohun Bagan to a 1-1 draw, maintaining their unbeaten run in the ISL. Roy Krishna and Manvir Singh looked threatening but missed chances, while Subrata Pal pulled off some fine saves under the Hyderabad goalpost. Manvir put ATKMB ahead in the 54th minute.

HC ASKS BSFI TO CONDUCT FRESH POLLS

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

UPHOLDING the December 5 order of the District Registrar of Societies, Bengaluru, the Karnataka High Court on Friday asked Billiards and Snooker Federation of India (BSFI) to cancel its election process and start afresh. The BSFI's annual general meeting was scheduled on Saturday in Bengaluru, where elections were supposed to be held to elect a new set of office-bearers.

As per a list of nominated candidates released by the returning officer on December 7, there was one nomination for each post and all the contestants were going to be elected unopposed. "The high court has upheld the order issued by the registrar," Sunil Bajaj, BSFI's acting secretary, who was supposed to be elected to the post unopposed, told Express. BSFI had moved court on Wednesday against the registrar's order. "We will go ahead with the AGM, as representatives from several state units including me have reached Bengaluru," added Bajaj. However, it needs to be seen when and how the BSFI extends the tenure of its existing office-bearers to conduct the AGM.

Pune-based businessmawn Rajan Khinvasara was supposed to become the president replacing incumbent MC Uthappa. Besides him, all three existing vice-presidents (Vijay Goel from Delhi, Soumini Srinivas of Tamil Nadu, West Bengal's Pradip Kumar Saraogi) were expected to continue.

It was Arvind Savur, ace cueist Pankaj Advani's coach and president of Karnataka State Billiards Association, who requested the registrar to cancel elections, raising objections through his application. Savur argued that BSFI published election time-table without complying with rules issued by the sports ministry and left eligible members out of voter list.

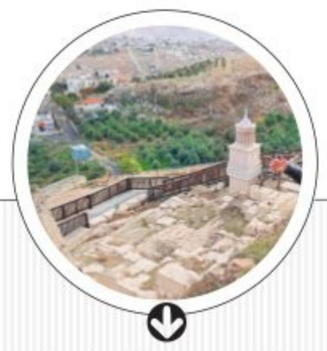
Conservators of the Israel Antiquities Authority restore the ancient wall painting of the royal chamber



The Herodium falls in an area of the occupied West Bank where Israel exercises full military and civilian control

EXFILE • ARCHAEOLOGY

BURIED PALACE NOW OPEN FOR PUBLIC

Israeli authorities are set to unveil previously off-limits structures within King Herod's palace-fortress Herodium, which the tyrannical Roman-era leader interred as his enormous burial plot. A brief look

WHERE IS IT

Herodium, a hugely popular tourism destination located 12 km from south of Jerusalem, is near Bethlehem

BACKGROUND

Archaeologists say Herod decided towards the end of his life to bury his palace, using mudfrom below the hill it was perched upon, until the outline of the structure was no longer visible

The hilltop palace was the only one he named after himself and where he chose to be buried, said Roi Porat, the Hebrew University archaeologist in charge of the excavations

A mere burial plot, however, would not have satisfied Herod, who wanted his final place of rest to overshadow his palace

Current summit is 2487 ft above sea level. It is the tallest peak in the Judean desert

Entire complex is approx-imately 328 ft above the surrounding countryside

AFP

WHEN WAS IT BUILT

The Judean desert complex was built by the Roman-appointed king known both for his brutality and the magnificent structures built during his reign over Judea from 37 TO 4 BC.

The hilltop palace, its main entrance facing Jerusalem, was Herod's favourite

UNPARALLELED

While burying the palace during his lifetime provided Herod the satisfaction of knowing his grave would stand out, it also helped preserve and protect the site for 2,000 years

STRUCTURE

A broad staircase leads up the graveside to the palace's main foyer. There are three tiers of support arches above the foyer, from when Herod decided to bury his palace but still needed access while he was still alive

The foyer itself contains striped frescos in their original auburn, green and black, creating patterns mimicking marble panels, in line with the Judean royal style

At the bottom of the stairs on the other side of the grave is the theatre with around 300 seats, and the private booth and royal visiting room overlooking it. Herod hosted Marcus Agrippa, second-in-command to Caesar Augustus, in that room in 15 BC

The ruler redecorated the room to include a series of drawings mimicking windows & depicting Agrippa's conquest of Egypt, with lavish stucco reliefs above

EXCAVATION PROJECT

13 YEARS

The excavation and preservation of the latest parts of the palace began some 13 years ago with the discovery of Herod's grave

WHO IS HEROD?

The history of his legacy has polarised opinion, as he is known for his colossal building projects throughout Judea, including his renovation of the Second Temple in Jerusalem and the expansion of the Temple Mount towards its north, the Tomb of the Patriarchs in Hebron, the construction of the port at Caesarea Maritima, the fortress at Masada, and Herodium.

Carbon dioxide emissions drop by 7 per cent

Significant drop in level due to people staying home & travelling less, experts expect it to rise after pandemic ends

ENVIRONMENT

NEW YORK: A locked-down pandemic-struck world cut its carbon dioxide emissions this year by seven per cent, the biggest drop ever, new preliminary figures show.

The Global Carbon Project, an authoritative group of dozens of international scientists who track emissions, calculated that the world will have put 37 billion US tons of carbon dioxide in the air in 2020. That's down from 40.1 billion US tons in 2019, according a study published Thursday in the Earth System Science Data.

Scientists say this drop is chiefly because people are staying home, traveling less by car and plane, and that emissions are expected to jump back up after the pandemic ends. Ground transportation makes up about one-fifth of emissions of carbon dioxide, the chief man-made heat-trapping gas.

"Of course, lockdown is absolutely not the way to tackle climate change," said study co-author Corinne LeQuere, a climate scientist at the University of East Anglia.

"The same group of scientists months ago predicted emission drops of four per cent to seven per cent depending on the progression of Covid-19. A second coronavirus wave and continued travel reductions pushed the decrease to seven per cent," LeQuere said.

Emissions dropped 12 per cent in the USA and 11 per cent in Europe, but only 1.7 per cent in China. That's because China had an earlier lockdown with less of a second wave. Also China's emissions are more industrial based than other countries and its industry was less affected than transportation, LeQuere said.

The calculations — based on reports detailing energy use, industrial production and daily mobility counts — were praised as accurate by outside scientists. Even with the drop in 2020, the world on average put 1,185 tons (1,075 metric tons) of carbon dioxide into the air every second.

Final figures for 2019 published in the same study show that from 2018 to 2019 emissions of the main man-made heat-trapping gas increased only 0.1 per cent, much smaller than annual jumps of around three per cent a decade ago.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Social media and depression

TECH

Young adults who increased their social media usage are significantly more likely to develop depression within six months, say researchers. Compared to the participants of the study who used social media for less than 120 minutes per day, young adults who used more than 300 minutes per day are 2.8 times as likely to become depressed within six months. The study, published in American Journal of Preventive Medicine, shows a link between social media usage and depression over time. "We know that depression and social media usage tend to go together, but it's been hard to figure out which came first," said study author Brian Primack.

Famine alert in south Sudan

SOS CALL

One county in South Sudan is likely in famine and tens of thousands of people in five other counties are on the brink of starvation, according to a new report by international food security experts. Nowhere in the world has been in famine since one was declared four years ago in South Sudan's Unity state as civil war raged. Now, western Pibor county is feared to have reached that crisis level, the result of massive flooding and deadly violence that has prevented access to aid. The report stops short of declaring famine, which would kick aid efforts into higher gear, because of insufficient data. But based on information, famine is thought to be occurring.

Indian-American in NASA's Moon mission shortlist

SPACE

WASHINGTON: Raja Jon Vurputoor Chari, an Indian-American US Air Force colonel, is among 18 astronauts, half of them women, who have been selected by NASA for its ambitious manned mission to the Moon and beyond.

Astronaut Raja Jon Vurputoor Chari

The modern lunar exploration programme will land the first woman and next man on the Moon in 2024 and establish a sustainable human lunar presence by the end of the decade, the American space agency said.

NASA on Wednesday named the 18 astronauts who will train for its Artemis moon-landing programme.

Chari, 43, a graduate of the US Air Force Academy, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and US Naval Test Pilot School, is the only Indian-American in the list. He was selected by NASA to join the 2017 Astronaut Candidate Class.

He reported for duty in August 2017 and having completed the initial astronaut candidate training is now eligible for a mission assignment.

"My fellow Americans, I give you the heroes of the future who will carry us back to the Moon and beyond: the Artemis Generation," vice-president Mike Pence said at NASA's Kennedy Space Centre in Florida on Wednesday.

"It really is amazing to think that the next man and the first woman on the Moon are among the names that we just read... We started today reflecting on a great hero of the past. The Artemis Generation are the heroes of American space exploration in the future," Pence said after he introduced the members of the Artemis Team during the eighth National Space Council meeting.

HIV +ve antibodies put Oz jab trail on hold

HEALTH

MELBOURNE: Australia on Friday stopped the further development of a Covid-19 vaccine candidate as several participants in the early-stage trials generated antibodies for HIV after receiving the potential therapeutic. There were no serious adverse events or safety concerns reported in the 216 participants of the first phase trial of the v451 Covid-19 vaccine candidate being developed by the University of of Queensland (UQ) in collaboration with biotech company CSL.

However, data showed that some patients developed antibodies towards fragments of a HIV protein (gp41), which was used to stabilise the vaccine. Following consultation with the Australian Government, UQ and CSL decided not to progress the vaccine candidate to Phase 2 and 3 clinical trials.

The vaccine was one of four candidates that Australia had committed to buy and agreements were made to secure 51 million doses.

Law to prohibit spanking kids

HEALTH

The lower house of Mexico's congress has unanimously approved a law that would prohibit all forms of physical punishment of children by parents, caretakers, teachers or guardians. Spanking is out, as is a long list of corporal punishments that speak to how deep-rooted the practice is in Mexico. Congress on Thursday said an estimated 63 per cent of children between one and 14 had suffered physical punishment.According to congress, shoving, pinching, biting, hair or ear-pulling, or forcing minors into uncomfortable positions, will all be outlawed. The law, which now goes to the president for his approval, does not lay out specific punishments for each offence; violations appear to fall under domestic violence statutes in each state.

ADAPTATION INDEX

Ferrets, cats and civets most susceptible to coronavirus infection among animals

FAUNA

LONDON: Humans, followed by ferrets, and to a lesser extent cats, civets and dogs are the animals most likely to be infected with the novel coronavirus, according to a new study which analysed 10 different species for their susceptibility to the virus which causes Covid-19.

The findings, published in the PLOS Computational Biology, found that ducks, rats, mice, pigs and chickens had lower or no susceptibility to the coronavirus compared to humans, while cats, ferrets, civets, and dogs have documented cases of the SARS-CoV-2 virus infection.

"Knowing which animals are susceptible to SARS-CoV-2 helps us prevent building up animal reservoirs from which the coronavirus can re-emerge at a later date," said Luis Serrano, study co-author from the Centre for Genomic Regulation (CRG) in Barcelona, Spain.

"Our findings offer a clue for why minks — which are closely related to the ferret — are being infected by the disease, which is probably made worse by their packed living conditions and close contact with human workers," Serrano said.

While the scientists also found potential susceptibility in cats, they said the felines do not co-exist with humans in the same conditions as other animals, possibly explaining why there are no known cases of people being infected by pets.

In the study, the scientists used computer modelling to test how the coronavirus uses its spike proteins, which protrude from the surface of the virus, to infiltrate the cells of different animals. Citing earlier research, they said the main point of entry on a cell's surface is the ACE2 receptor, which binds with the spike protein through a mechanism.

Humans followed by ferrets are most likely to be infected with the virus

While there are many different variants of ACE2 within human populations and across different species, the scientists said the ACE2 receptor types in humans, ferrets, cats, dogs and civets have the highest binding affinities to the viral spike protein, while mice, rats, chicken and ducks have poor binding energy. Binding affinity alone is not enough to gauge a cell's susceptibility. The researchers also tested how efficient the coronavirus is at commandeering the cell machinery in different species once it enters.

According to the scientists, the more efficient this process, the better the coronavirus can create the proteins it needs to replicate. They said humans, chickens, and ducks have the highest codon adaptation index, while the other species are worse adapted.

Considering both binding affinity and this index, the researchers concluded that humans, followed by ferrets, cats, civets and dogs are the most susceptible to infection.

City finance professional to play a heritage pipe organ at upcoming X'mas music event

EXPRESS FEATURES

A nip in the air, warm wraps, gift wish lists, and the heady aroma of mulled wine and rum cake. It's impossible to miss the festive cheer. But what's Christmas without some music? The New Delhi YMCA has organised a programme called 'Christmas Music on Pipe Organ', featuring eight performers, including Johann Andrew Bhagyanathan, senior VP and CFO, Ittiam Systems. Bhagyanathan started playing the pipe organ in 1980. "This instrument has a unique sound," says Bhagyanathan, 60, who was named after Johann Sebastian Bach, since his father cherished the German composer's music. He has been with Indiranagar Methodist Church since 1990, when moved to Bengaluru from Chennai, and started playing at St Andrew's Church in 2005.

While Bhagyanathan is a trained pianist, he has not received any tutelage for pipe organ. "Since orchestras were difficult to manage, more so in churches, this wind instrument was created as an equivalent," he says, adding that the pipe organ at St. Andrew's, Bangalore, is a Peter Conacher, 1880 built, 1881 installed, restored by Christopher Gray from Midland Organ Co., UK in 2008 under the guidance of the late composer Randall Giles. The instrument, which occupies about 250 sqft, has an array of pipes that sound like trumpets, oboes, flutes, while the pedal key board has bass pipes that sound like cello, trombone and the double bass. "An electric blower blows air into the pipes, but if all were to sound simultaneously, it would be cacophony. So we choose the sounding pipes through a 'stop'. This is where the phrase 'pulling out all the stops' comes from," he says, adding, "The stops and the pallets enable only the required pipes to sound at a particular moment."

In the upcoming performance, he will play three pieces: Prepare, Thyself from Bach's Christmas Oratorio, two medleys of traditional carols and excerpts from Handel's Messiah. The event will also feature musicians from churches at Ranchi, Secundrabad, Lucknow and Delhi. Markus Kras, a performer and teacher, will join from Bonn, Germany.

The event will be held on Dec. 12 at 5 pm on Zoom (ID: 97423056442; password: 855333)

IN REMEMBRANCE: ASTAD DEBOO (1947-2020)

MAESTRO AND HIS MAGIC

Astad Deboo in his younger days

PRAVEEN D RAO

SEPTEMBER 7, workshop and show in Barbados; November 16, Delhi; 19th in Trivandrum, then Mumbai, Kolkata, Paris, London..." Astad Deboo would go on and on without a pause to think. During the two weeks that our band Trayam (comprising percussionist B C Manjunath, musical prodigy Varijashree Venugopal and myself) spent with him in South Korea in 2017, we were treated to many stories from his treasure chest of experiences. He seemed to have information about every topic under the stars. Astadji's enigmatic memory and curiosity for information were a few of the most amazing qualities in him that all of us adored. "In an era where our mobile phones are our calendars, dictionaries, calculators and encyclopaedia, he was at ease with remembering each date of his travel and performances, and the details associated with it," says Varijashree.

Astad Deboo was respectfully addressed as 'Master' by the South Korean musicians of 'NoreumMachi', with whom our band had this opportunity to collaborate and tour in South Korea and India just before the Covid-19 lockdown. Astadji was the dance element in this musical conversation between Indian and South Korean music, curated by the InKo Centre, Chennai. Though we knew about Astadji earlier, the 10-day production time that we had in Chennai in 2016 gave us our first opportunity to know him from closer quarters. His disciplined lifestyle, royal dressing sense, artistic hair design, picturesque poise and confident gait were the first qualities we saw. He was one who would make himself seen in any crowd. There were innumerable instances where everyone nodded their heads when B C Manjunath exclaimed, "He is so good looking even at this age, I am sure that he was absolutely magnetic during his prime."

Astadji was an inspiration in many ways. His zeal and passion for his art was brimming to the fullest and only increasing with every passing day. He was inquisitive and childlike, which made him explore innumerable possibilities and dimensions in art. Conversations with him were always informative and joyous. He mingled with people of all ages and was always excited for a chat.

His balance in thoughts and life was clearly visible in the inimitable dance style that he had created for himself. The Kathakali motifs, the dervish spins and the mudras which looked exaggerated on his larger-than-normal palms and fingers added necessary glitter to the strong contemporary dance style he advocated.

Astad Deboo was a pioneer of modern contemporary Indian dance. He paved the way for today's artistes who have taken that path. Even though the time we spent was relatively short, we shall surely miss all the affectionate coffees, the delightful desserts and interesting walks we had together. He will be remembered forever.

TINA SHASHIKANTH

Audiobooks have seen a big boom of late in India. On regional language platforms, the demand for local content is on the rise too, especially in the post-lockdown era. Bridging the gap between literature and entertainment in Kannada is the Keli Katheya audiobook series. Keli Katheya brings forth some of the finest Kannada short stories through the voices of distinguished personalities from the Kannada movie industry. Now available in two volumes, the first part of the Keli Katheya series was launched in 2014, while the second was launched on Tuesday by film personalities B Suresha, Vasishta Simha, Kishor, and renowned Kannada writer and publisher Vasudhendra.

This audiobook was conceptualised by various professionals from the IT and banking sectors who share a common interest – to explore this emergent art form. All proceeds generated from the first part of the audiobook were used to support the education of nine girls in the border areas of Karnataka, who went on to score 100 per cent in Kannada language.

After spending much time on content curation and working closely with authors, artists and music directors, the team is now ready with the second volume.

"The magic of getting the best Kannada stories and the best voices from cinema, music and theatre for a good cause is humbling. At the same time, we also have a responsibility to ensure that we keep doing this," says Mukund Setlur from Keli Katheya's team.

FIT BIT

SWASTIKASANA

(AUSPICIOUS POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'su' means 'good', 'asti' means 'to be' or 'existence', 'ka' means 'to make' and 'asana' means 'pose'. It is a basic seated yogasana often used in meditation, particularly when the yogi has difficulty with Siddhasana and Padmasana. It is named so because the cross-legged position resembles a swastika, which Indians consider a symbol of good fortune, happiness and auspiciousness. The symbol represents the corners of the universe meeting at a common centre of consciousness. it is believed to open the flow of prana energy between the Muladhara (root) chakra and the Ajna (third eye) chakra.

STEPS

- Sit comfortably on a mat.
- Come in Dandasana (Staff pose), spread both the legs in front of you at a distance of 1.5 feet.
- Bend your left leg and place the sole against the inner right thigh.
- Next, bend your right leg and place the foot in the space between the left thigh and calf muscles.Remember that the right heel must not touch the pubis.
- Your knees have to firmly touch the floor. Keep your body straight and your head and neck in one line.
- Adjust yourself. Place your hands on your knees in take Jnana or Chin mudra.
- Keep your spine straight during this pose and not overextended.
- Maintain awareness on the breath, which should be slow and normal.
- Relax the whole body.
- Initially, sit only for 10 minutes in this pose and don't force yourself.

BENEFITS

- Regular practice will improve the concentration level.
- An excellent asana which is relatively easy to perform by all.
- Used for Dhyana (meditation) and Pranayama (breath) exercises.
- Boosts immunity.
- Reduces eye strain.
- Stretches the calves, spine and hamstrings.
- Builds confidence.
- Rejuvenates the nervous system.
- Those suffering from varicose veins and leg ache can sit in this pose.
- Calms the mind.

LIMITATIONS

- People suffering from sciatica and sacral infections should avoid this.
- Those with knee pain or injury should skip this asana.
- People with arthritis of the knees, hips and feet should avoid sitting on the floor.

The mask-querade ball

They say that karma is canis-femina, and sometimes its fangs make a deep dent in the derriere of entitled people who forget that the position they occupy is 'fugit tempus' (temporary). So not withstanding my obsession with Latin words, I am doing a little happy dance, mouthing 'it's about time!' All the self-serving establishments and individuals who flouted safety norms by not adhering to the 'wear-a-mask' rule and in turn had no face to tell their customers to 'mask up' are now paying the price! Nothing hurts like losing money, hence the new diktat by the government that the erring establishments have to cough up a hefty fine for the boors who don't 'mask up' inside their establishments. All the whining about being broke and asking for business doesn't hold well at someone else's expense. If one chooses to be an ignoramus then they should stay home! Why should other hand-working people be afraid to move around freely because one is constantly fearful of being infected! I had a major argument with my spouse who told me, "People don't like being told to wear a mask and take offence!" This argument took place after we were discussing the lapse of a senior resource who was welcoming guests with his chin-guard (mask in the wrong spot). Icicles definitely formed over the relationship with the establishment but I didn't back down because I was definitely within my rights. Customer is always king and nobody is bigger than the brand!

We spent a delightful afternoon at Wabi-Sabi, at The Oberoi. We were doing a mini 'fam-jam' with GM Visheshwar Singh, and both my nieces, Sanaya and Abir Abrar, who flew in from Mumbai, were there too. The lunch was decadent and long. Flutes of champagne accompanied the Char-Siu baos, Sushi rolls, Butter Poached five spice sea-bass and braised pork spare ribs. Of course, the dark chocolate shaped like a wild mushroom with candied ginger and yuzu just hit all the right spots. But what hit the 'most-right' spot was the way the wait-staff wore visors while serving us (we were maskless while eating), and the way the valet wiped down the steering wheel and the gear handle when he brought us our car. These little gestures give guests a feeling of confidence. Yes! We have to step out, work and even enjoy ourselves... but with strict protocols in place. And those who don't agree, stay home please!

I've been taking baby steps into the big bad world, and meeting my BFF for lunch after nine months was bliss. Where else does one land up but at Olive Beach. Chef Manu Chandra spent some time with us and his 'secret-sauce' for success was to hang in there, and ride the tiger with elan. Between mouthfuls of steak and wild arugula, fish and prawn pil-pil, we downed a copious amount of cocktails like the Butterfly Pea Blossom. How could anything possibly go wrong during such an afternoon?

My cup runneth over when restaurateur Desmond Rice invited a small group (read 'ol Bangaloreans who loved his food) to Tycoons. Ask any Bangalorean worth his salt and he will wax eloquent about the food... the Chateaubriand sizzlers, the chicken a-la-Kiev (nothing to do with Russia but consists of 200gm of butter and chicken!) the au-gratins, prawn cocktails and the list goes on. The obscene amount of food polished off stands testament to the taste.

I'm glad Bangalore is returning to a semblance of normalcy... now if we can get 'them' to mask-on rather than mask-off, we should be fine.

It's raining spirits this month. Here are the newest tipples on offer, just in time for gifting or for Christmas get-togethers

Spirit of the moment

ASLAM GAFOOR

From limited-edition single malts to artisanal gins, craft beers and convenience wines, its raining spirits this festive month and we're not complaining. Producers continue to innovate and bring out their newest tipples for gifting or to enjoy in the company of loved ones. Here's a roundup of some fresh drinks hitting the shelves in namma Bengaluru.

Celebrating 10 years of Amrut Fusion, the Amrut Distilleries team has launched Fusion X, a special edition single malt whisky which pays tribute to their late chairman and managing director, Neelakanta Rao Jagdale. Fusion X imparts a golden syrup colour with aromas of tropical fruits and salted caramel. Orange, vanilla cream, toffee fudge and oak notes impart a complex palate culminating in a silky mouthfeel with a sweet-spicy finish. Befitting the occasion, the collectible Fusion X porcelain bottle by Wade, England, is presented in a rich velvet jacket. The cork is from Portugal and to maintain authenticity, the bottle has an integrated NFC chip by Vlinder. Out of the 1,010 bottles, only 60 will be available in Bengaluru at ₹15,000.

Gin has made a strong comeback. Goa-based Andico Distilleries, known for their feni, liqueur, port wine, whisky and brandy, will launch their Tickle gin this week in Bengaluru, priced at ₹1,500. The production goes through botanical infusions sourced from Goa, Kerala and Maharashtra, and a cold extraction process before being bottled in sleek, transparent bottles with white and gold shades. According to MD Solomon Diniz, "Tickle redefines what a typical gin should 'taste'. This dry gin is crafted to balance the dominating burst of juniper with a bouquet of spices and citrus."

Next in the line-up is Hapusa Himalayan dry gin produced by Nao Spirits, the same team that earlier gave us the popular Greater Than gin. Distilled with foraged Himalayan juniper and locally sourced botanicals, Hapusa imbibes a smooth and earthy flavour profile on the nose with a delicate smoked finish. Priced at ₹3,500, Hapusa is best savoured straight on ice or as a G&T with basil or mint garnish.

There's plenty brewing at the Paul John Indian Single Malts house in Goa, but of special mention is the newest Paul John Whisky Christmas Edition 2020 priced at ₹5,500. This limited release is a blend of single malts matured in ex-Bourbon, Oloroso and virgin oak casks. The whisky greets you with delicate aromas of orange peel and honeycomb enhanced with sweet oak and light peated flavours.

Fratelli Wines has launched TiLT wine-in-a-can with four variants – red, white, bubbly and rosé. While purists may scoff at the idea of canned wines, TiLT offers the convenience of savouring the wines anytime and anywhere. Produced in Maharashtra under the mentorship of winemaker Piero Masi from Tuscany, these 250 ml eco-sensitive cans, shielded from light and air, are priced at ₹175 each.

On the beer front, get ready to welcome Goa's Maka di, a bottled craft beer from Latambarcem Brewers. Maka di (Konkani for 'give me'), offers five variants – Belgian Blanche, American Lager, Belgian Triple, Honey Ale and the Bavarian Keller. The ingredients come from far and wide – sweet oranges from Valencia, malts from Finland, Britain and Germany, and wild organic honey from the Jim Corbett National Park. The bottles, priced in the range of ₹170-230, sport fun astral labels with an astronaut mascot for company.

The restaurant at Geist Brewing Factory on Old Madras Road recently started serving fresh craft beers along with a food menu, all under the shade of a majestic, over a 100-year-old banyan tree. The dining perks here include limited-release brews that can be savoured only at the garden restaurant. They are currently pouring the Geist Silly Pint, a crisp, straw-coloured, effervescent India Pale Lager with fruity notes.

Old Monk Xtra alcopops, at ₹85, have also hit retail shelves in flavours of Mojito, Cranberry and classic Cola premixed with favourite Old Monk rum. And, subsequent to the success of tonic mixers, Svami has introduced a range of ready-to-drink, alcohol-free beverages distilled with delicate botanicals. The choice includes a Rum & Cola, Gin & Tonic and Pink Gin & Tonic, priced at ₹95. Sláinte.

Crazy about chicken

Life has almost come full circle for Saransh Goila. A decade after starting his professional culinary journey in Bengaluru, the Mumbai-based chef is now setting up his popular brand, Goila Butter Chicken (GBC), in namma Ooru. "It's a special feeling - from doing my first job at the Leela Kempinski to bringing my own brand here. It's such a trip down memory lane," says Goila, whose butter chicken and eponymous food venture have slowly gained a dedicated following. Set up in 2016 as a cloud kitchen in Mumbai, GBC has since then expanded to Pune, London in November this year, and is now traversing to Bengaluru this month. Similar to its Mumbai menu, the delivery kitchen here too will offer its butter chicken, butter paneer, naan bombs (dough balls served with different fillings like mushroom, paneer or chicken), Sindhi mutton curry and a slow-cooked makhni dal as well.

Goila, who co-founded GBC with Vivek Sahani, is toeing a fine line between offering tried-and-tested classics and new combinations from the places the brand is expanding to. For example, the London outlet will also serve a pizza-oven baked sourdough naan. "We're still doing trials but we are considering serving Malabar parothas in Bengaluru. Maybe, eventually, we might consider some dosas. When you go to a new city, it's nice to create your dish with a product they already like," says the chef, who is partnering with A2Z Hospitality LLP's Amit Roy and Vishal Nagpal for the Bengaluru outlet.

Goila's butter chicken (with a smoked gravy, honey and ground cashew nuts) took him six months to perfect and has earned many fans, including chef and former judge on MasterChef Australia, George Calombaris. In 2018, he even appeared as a guest judge on the show, where three contestants had to recreate his butter chicken to prevent being eliminated. Interestingly, Goila never tried the dish until he was 21 years old. "I'm part Sindhi, part Marwari and part Baniya, and grew up eating vegetarian food. In the case of my recipe, the paneer actually came before the chicken. I created this recipe for vegetarians, the gravy tasted like butter chicken, minus the meat. When it became popular in my family, I started making the same with chicken. That's how it became popular in Mumbai and after several pop-ups, it took off on social media," recalls Goila.

While cloud kitchens have become a rage after the pandemic, Goila set up one in 2016. The decision, however, did not come easy. "There was hesitation and a lot of debate. But what gave us confidence is that a delivery kitchen is easier to scale up than a restaurant. We had to take a call about - do we want a create a dish that people have to come to Mumbai for? Or do we want to take it to the world? The second prospect definitely sounded more exciting," says the 33-year-old. Things may have taken a backseat because of the pandemic but Goila hasn't lost hope. "Food is like entertainment. We bank on it to have a good life. So, restaurants are nowhere to go and business will be back sooner or later."

ON B'LURU AND BEER

Goila's tryst with the city goes back many years and is filled with memories at CTR and Brahmins. Speaking about Bengaluru's evolution in the food scene, Goila says, "The city has dominated the gastro pup culture in India. It has made dining out exciting, there are so many places serving excelling beer and food. Cities like Mumbai and Delhi can learn from Bengaluru."

Sanjay Dutt to star in Toolsidas Junior

CE FEATURES

Filmmaker Ashutosh Gowariker is set to join hands with producer Bhushan Kumar for an upcoming sports drama, Toolsidas Junior. Starring Sanjay Dutt in the lead, the film is set in the world of snooker and also stars actor-filmmaker Raj Kapoor's youngest son Rajiv Kapoor, who returns to screen 30 years after his 1990 film, Zimmedaaar.

The film is written and directed by Mridul and also features child actor Varun Buddhadev.

Gowariker took to Twitter and shared the first look of the film, writing that he was thrilled to collaborate with T-Series for Toolsidas Junior.

"A music association now steps up to become a movie collaboration! Get your cue sticks ready! #ToolsidasJunior coming soon," the director tweeted. Gowariker and Kumar had previously partnered for the music of the 2004 drama, Swades. Other details regarding the film have been kept under wraps.

WE MEET PEOPLE FOR A REASON: HARSHIKA POONACHA

The Kannada actor talks about her Bhojpuri film debut, her shooting experience in London during the pandemic, and more

A SHARADHAA

Harshika Ponacha has wrapped the shooting of her debut Bhojpuri movie. The yet-to-be-titled film, made by Yashi Films and directed by Premanshu Singh, has her paired opposite Bhojpuri actor Pawan Singh. Harshika was in London recently to participate in a month-long shoot. Back home, the actor admits to still being in a shooting hangover. "I have got this London fever right now. I am missing the place, the sets, and the co-artistes," says the Kodava hudugi, who has made her mark in Kannada cinema and has also worked in Telugu, Malayalam and Konkani film.

Talking about how she bagged her first Bhojpuri film, she says, "I think we all believe in destiny, and that we meet people for a reason. I met Bhojpuri producer Abhay Singh at an event, and he asked me whether I was interested in seeing myself in a Bhojpuri film. Though I had no such intention at that time, I expressed my interest in working in films, irrespective of the language and the industry. A couple of months later, I got a call from the producer about the project and shooting in London, and that's how this worked out."

In the movie, she plays a London-based rich man's daughter who remains simple and humble, and works as a waitress in a hotel.

The shooting experience in London, she says, was a risk, but that's a challenge she decided to take. "When you do something, out of your comfort zone, that's when you do well, and that's something I usually like to go by. During the pandemic, going to London was a risk, but it was all done with precautionary measures. I got my Covid-19 test done, which was negative, before we flew. It was a fantastic experience. Moreover, we didn't see the usual crowd because of the pandemic. The entire place was ours and the shooting process was a cool affair," says Harshika.

According to the actor, every industry is good, and it all depends on the individual. "I am a person who is not judgemental. I went with an open mind, thinking that it would be as good as our industry. I think they are much ahead when it comes to technology. The director had his homework done, he was well prepared, and I enjoyed working," she says. Harshika is equally excited about dubbing for the film. "I speak Hindi in this film because that's the way the director has sketched my character. I have spoken only 2-3 lines in Bhojpuri. Since I am comfortable speaking in Hindi, the producer has asked me to dub for the film. I also feel the character turns out much more beautiful when you have your voice. I have finished the shoot, and am looking forward to its release," she says.

An engrossing story on WWII women spies

GOPINATH RAJENDRAN

A CALL TO SPY
Director: Lydia Dean Pilcher
Cast: Sarah Megan Thomas, Stana Katic, Radhika Apte Jisshu Sengupta
RATING 3/5
STREAMING ON: AMAZON PRIME VIDEO

The word 'war' usually conjures up images of uniformed men fighting with weapons. But what about the women who took as much, or more, risk as their male counterparts and fought for their countries in their own ways? Till the end of World War I, women's contribution to war efforts were limited to cooking, laundry, providing first aid in war zones, and indirect services such as working in farms and munition factories to replace men drafted to the army. It was during WWII that women got into active warfare, and even in our shores, the Indian National Army established India's first all-women regiment to fight for our independence. Amazon Prime Video's latest film, however, is not the story of female soldiers who risked their lives behind enemy lines. A Call to Spy is a true story based on the trials and tribulations of three women who worked as spies in Winston Churchill's secret army.

In the initial days of WWII, France falls, and with the Germans having the upper hand, Churchill comes up with a new spy agency named Special Operations Executive. The Jewish 'spymistress' Vera Atkins (Stana Katic), recruits Virginia Hall (Sarah Megan Thomas), an American with a prosthetic foot striving to be a diplomat, and Noor Khan (Radhika Apte), an Indian Muslim pacifist and a princess. Their mission, labelled as 'ungentlemanly warfare', is to aid the already existing network of spies in France and get the right intel. The three embark on a journey to serve their country and in due course, break a system that rarely gave them attention, let alone allowed them to be treated as equals to their male counterparts.

A Call to Spy portrays the struggle of those who went beyond the call of duty and many more who supported these people even if it meant putting their own lives on the line. And if that's not enough, the women have to fight red-tapism, antisemitic bosses, and sadly, but not surprisingly, sexism that ranges the spectrum — in one scene, a senior of Atkins, when she's on the verge of recruiting spies, asks her to "make sure they're pretty," and in another scene, Hall's male colleague fails to abide by her plan just because she's a woman. The three women go about their adventures on their own with no one to support them for the most part. It's when they actually come together, in a handful of scenes, that the film steers away from being a thriller to an endearing drama.

In her very first solo direction venture, Lydia Dean Pilcher takes a piece of history that's far away from the tried and tested WWII stories and shows an extremely realistic portrayal of spies without indulging in the usual tropes of the genre. Sarah Megan Thomas, who has the meatiest role among the trio, has also penned the story after years of research. What I loved about A Call to Spy is that it never gets over-ambitious. Instead of going anywhere near the more dramatic incidents of the war, it sticks to the lives of those who were just a bunch of cogs in the allied forces.

The pragmatic approach towards storytelling, backed by the beautiful performances, makes us want to know more about these three women. Though the runtime does an acceptable job of introducing them, we're left wishing that there was more time to flesh out the characters which would've made some of the powerful lines and scenes more hard-hitting. I really wish this had been a series rather than a 124-minute film. That said, thanks to a stellar cast and a sensible script, A Call to Spy is a lovely homage to the women whose sacrifices needed to be told.

A LOUD, OVERLONG HORROR-THRILLER

SHILAJIT MITRA

Twisty movies need to play out in a twisted universe. Films like Primal Fear and The Usual Suspects are classics not just because their protagonists get away, but because they inhabit a world that lets them get away. Such is rarely the case in Indian cinema, though. In a culture where words like 'insaaf' (justice) and 'imandari' (honesty) still hold genuine cinematic sway, it's only a matter of time till a film spills its beans.

I was borderline sold on the concept of Durgamati, a remake of the 2018 Tamil-Telugu hit Bhaagmathie, when it became clear which way the wind was blowing. Chanchal Chauhan (Bhumi Pednekar), an honest IAS officer under arrest for murder, is hastily shifted to Durgamati Haveli, a secluded mansion in the middle of nowhere. There, she is interrogated over a few days by a team of CBI officials and cops. They want her to tattle on a powerful minister, Ishwar Prasad (Arshad Warsi), whom she used to assist. But before the operation can proceed, strange occurrences begin to happen. Chanchal, it appears, gets possessed by Durgamati, the spirit of a despotic queen whose mansion it is. She turns increasingly violent—slithering backwards into dark rooms and shouting manically in Arabic—though the cops keep on with their little experiment.

This is where the film oversteps itself. It's one thing to keep us guessing if Chanchal is possessed or not, quite another to do so in such a loud and relentless manner. The visual effects are forcibly gimmicky—supernatural intervention or not. Bhumi, an otherwise talented actor, is a terrible on-screen shouter, her appearances as Durgamati unbearably screechy and outlandish. "Mein Durgamati hoon…," she screams assertively in one scene—just in case you were starting to doubt that claim. This isn't a horror comedy, though it often feels like one: in addition to Chanchal's crazed trident-wielding, there are the three constables nervously watching her (Priyadarshan's Bhool Bhulaiyaa had struck this balance effectively, keeping the humour and the intrigue on separate tracks).

Director G Ashok also makes the mistake of writing black-and-white characters into his plot. Mahie Gill (as CBI officer Satakshi Ganguly) and Jisshu Sengupta (as ACP Abhay Singh) are grim, astute figures, while Karan Kapadia—as Chanchal's dead boyfriend—is so tame you hardly regret how things turn out for him. Only Arshad Warsi as Ishwar manages to suggest a sly ambivalence even as his character is framed as a demi-god (Chanchal talks him up as a model of integrity in the interrogation scenes, and, in an odd flashback, he likens her to his daughter).

In shifting the setting to North India, the film accommodates the political talking points of today. There are nods to appeasement, exploitation, protests. There's also a plotline about missing idols from local temples—and how it can shake up the entire politics of the state. Mostly, though, the conspiracy is kept slapdash, and can be figured out once you have the basic pieces in place. "Everything makes sense," Abhay ventures at the 150th minute. "But there's one doubt." Oh, come on, dude...The mark of a good suspense thriller is its ability to duck and dive, to not reveal its intentions till the very end. Durgamati, while piling on twist upon ludicrous twist, does not heed this logic. Instead, it takes every passing chance to moralise, even at the cost of giving away its plot. The fears of Indian cinema are primal, its ingenuity doubly so.
